4 There are many surprising facts about a tarantula's eating habits. Tarantulas are nocturnal predators. Although they can prey on frogs and mice at night, its main source of food is insects. Then they attack the prey by using their hairy legs to capture them, paralyzing them with venom, and biting them with their fangs. Then they liquefy the prey's bodies with digestive enzymes so they can suck up the remains! These predators may be slow on their eight hairy legs, but they are successful predators.

5 Two causes of the Revolutionary War were the Stamp Act and Tea Act. The Stamp Act was a tax Britain placed on all paper goods in the colonies. They wanted to raise money to pay for the expenses from the French and Indian War. The Tea Act was enforced when the British parliament was trying to control the tea being imported. They wanted the colonists to buy tea from one company. The acts were two of several causes that led the colonists to war.

O Mother of the Word Incarnate, despise not my petitions, but in thy mercy, hear and answer me. Amen.
