Here are some additional activities that your child may want to do. This list includes a variety of suggestions and all are completely optional.

1. Read any book of your choice. Write a new ending to the book.
2. Visit National Geographic for Kids to read interesting articles, watch cool videos and play games.
3. Visit Mystery Science for an extension activity. Mystery Science: How can you keep a house from blowing away in a windstorm? If you choose to complete the science activity, please share!! I'd love to see your design.
4. Practice math facts using flash cards or practice on Freckle.
5. Play math or logic games on Math Playground.
6. Complete spring multiplication or division coloring page.
7. Easter letter mix-up: Come up with as many words as you can using the letters in the words EASTER BUNNY.
8. Practice writing. Choose one or more of the spring writing prompts to complete.
9. Write a spring cinquain poem. See an example of a cinquain poem and a guide on how to write one below.
