

Third Grade October Newsletter

The autumn season is here with its beautiful colors, cooling temperatures, and settling into a new school year.

In religion students will continue to work on Unit 1 and they will learn about the origins, characteristics, and work of the Church.

In Language Arts class students will continue their exploration of Unit 1. Our focus will be on comprehension and grammar skills which will be integrated with the writing process.

As we look ahead in math, students will begin developing number sense, and progress towards addition in the thousands.

Our science lessons will be focused on forces of motion. We will continue our journey of exploring patterns of motion. The science labs will be used to support and enhance classroom lessons.

Our social studies unit will develop an understanding of economics. The students will gain knowledge about resources, trade, goods, and services.

Thank you for making the first month of school a pleasant and smooth transition for the students. Please remember to check your calendar and school website for important information. May you enjoy the beautiful colors of nature and God's blessings this autumn season.
