

Fourth Grade October Newsletter

The change in the seasons bring cooler temperatures, brilliant fall colors, and settling into the school year. Our students will be taking the COGATS the week of September 30th and the IOWA Tests of Basic Skills the week of October 14th and 20th, which are based on New York State Standards. Students should have a good night sleep, a healthy breakfast and two #2 pencils.

Religion classes will focus on God giving us the freedom to choose to love and follow him. Choices that lead us away from God are called sins.

In English Language Arts we will continue our exploration of Unit 1. We will continue to work on comprehension and grammar skills which will be integrated with the writing process.

Math lessons will help students extend their study of addition and subtraction as they explore regrouping. Students must continue to study and master basic multiplication and division facts.

In Science, we will be working on human uses of energy. We will also continue our journey of exploring energy. The science labs provided will be used to support and enhance classroom lessons.

Our Social Studies classes will help students understand how America and its citizens have remained the same or changed during our history.

Thank you for making the first month of school a pleasant and smooth transition for the students. Please remember to check the school calendar and website for important information. After Columbus Day students may no longer wear the summer uniform. May you enjoy the beautiful colors of nature and God's blessings this autumn season.
