

FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME, A
DOMINGO V DEL TIEMPO ORDINARIO, A
"You are the salt of the earth. You are the light of the world."
"Ustedes son sal de la tierra... luz del mundo."

Praying the Word

He who said, "I am the light of the world, whoever follows me will have the light of life,"; he who came to bring immortality and preservation from the corruption of sin, now tells us, his disciples, those who have come close to him: "You are the light of the world; you are the salt of the earth." Indeed, a Christian has become bearer (Christophoros) of the true Light and the Salt, Christ Jesus. Light alludes to orientation and warmth, and the faculty that responds to it is vision. Salt speaks of conservation from decay and also flavor appealing to the sense of taste. Light, by its very nature, illumines; salt essentially is salty. It is a matter of authenticity, of being; because one has been transformed by his communion with Christ, he/she is guide, beacon, warmth, flavor, meaning to others. Witnessing with good works for the glory of the Father, is not hypocrisy or a show-off, rather the consequence of being good, because touched by God's goodness.

The First Reading, that introduces us to the conclusion of the first section of the Sermon on the Mount, the Beatitudes, tells us that "our light will break like the dawn" if we share our food with the hungry, shelter the homeless, clothe the naked. Charity makes us share the nature of God who is love and when we love, God, the Invisible, is made known and his love is made perfect in us (cf. 1Jn 4,12). How do I bear witness to Christ?

Quien nos dijo "Yo soy la luz del mundo, quien me sigue tendrá luz de la vida;" también él que nos trajo la inmortalidad y nos preservó de la corrupción del pecado, ahora nos dice a sus discípulos, a los que nos hemos acercado a él: "Ustedes son luz del mundo, son sal de la tierra." De veras, el cristiano se ha convertido en un portador (Cristóforo, cristóbal) de Cristo Jesús, verdadera luz y la sal de la tierra. La luz alude orientación y fuente de calor y la facultad que nos la hace percibir es la visión. La sal nos habla de la conservación de la podredumbre y también del sabor que apela al gusto. La luz, por su propia naturaleza, ilumina; la sal esencialmente sala. Se trata de autenticidad, de ser luz y sal; porque uno ha sido transformado por su comunión con Cristo y se convierte en guía, dirección, calor, sabor, sentido para los demás. Testimoniar con obras buenas para la gloria del Padre no es ostentación hipócrita, mas bien la consecuencia de haber sido transformado por la bondad de Dios.

La Primera Lectura, que nos introduce a la conclusión de la sección Bienaventuranzas del Sermón sobre la Montaña, nos dice que nuestra luz brillará como la aurora si compartimos pan con el hambriento, socorremos al sin-techo y oprimido y cuando vestimos al desnudo. La caridad es participación en la naturaleza de Dios que es amor y cuando amamos, Dios el Invisible, se manifiesta a través de nosotros y su amor se hace perfecto en nosotros (cf. 1Jn 4,12). ¿Cómo doy testimonio de Cristo?
