

1. Go to www.prudential.com
2. Click on the yellow Log In button

3. If you have already created a username/id and password enter it here.

Log In to Prudential

Access the following Prudential personal accounts:

- Individual Life Insurance (not provided through an employer)
- Mutual Funds
- Annuities
- 401(k), 403(b), 457 and Pensions

Username/User ID

Password

Log In

Forgot username or password?

First-time user?

Register Now

Need assistance logging in?

Get Help

For access to all other accounts:

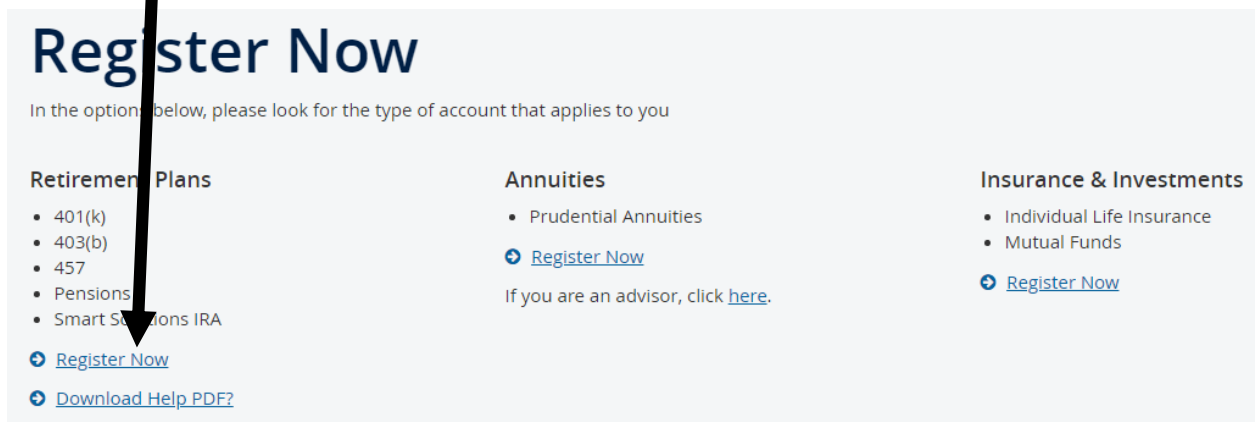

- Financial Professionals
- Partners, Producers and Plan Sponsors
- Employers
- Individual and Plan Participants

View login options for all Prudential accounts

4. If this is your first time visiting the Prudential site, click Register Now under First-time user.

The rest of this document will detail how to register as a First-time user up to the point of creating your username/password.

5. Once you click on the Register Now link, you will select the type of account you have. Click Register Now under Retirement Plans.

6. You will now register your account. Enter your social security number, date of birth, zip code and the unique security code. Click Next.

Registration

Enter User Identification

Please enter the following information to help us verify your identity:

Social Security Number

Date Of Birth
(MM/DD/YYYY)

 / /

Zip Code

Your Unique Security Code

Enter Unique Security Code

For added protection, please type in the security code exactly as it is shown above. Please Note: When entering in the security code you must enter in a CAPITAL LETTER or number

Cancel

Next >

7. Continue to follow the prompts to set up your username and password. If you are having a problem registering (step 6 above) please contact Jen Hayes at 800.876.3546. If you are having problems with your account once you have registered and set up a username, please contact Prudential Customer Service at 877.778.2100