

Friday, April 24, 2020; Second Week of Easter
Acts 5:34-42; Psalm 26(27):1, 4, 13-14; John 6:1-

“Where can we buy(find) some bread...”

We are going through times when nations, states, churches, including our own parish, families and individuals are paying attention to good and strict management of scarce resources. More so because no one knows where COVID-19 leads in terms of the end to restrictions and economic recovery. Yet, the cry is louder now for everyone to be more generous. God expects more from those who have more. God would bless immensely those who give from the little that they have and their jar of oil will not run dry. Amongst the many lessons of today's gospel miracle, the generosity of a little boy stands out. From his little supply, Jesus blessed and gave food to the multitude. There was food left over; and gathered up because wastage is a sin, especially since so many go to bed hungry daily. I hope that young boy's generous disposition inspires you to share during this difficult time.

Lord, feed your people. Amen.
