Dear Parishioners,

For near 15 months, we have had restrictions for Mass because of COVID 19, and I am pleased to report that we are back to full operation in our parish. Once again the collection will be taken up by ushers, communion will be distributed as usual, and we can exchange the sign of peace per comfort level. Bishop Coyne has encouraged those who are not vaccinated or who may be in a higher risk category to wear a facial covering, but this is no longer mandated.

Fr. Joseph and I have commented to each other how wonderful it is to see your faces again, but we also recognize that we need your help to begin the work of rebuilding our parish family now. You may know of someone who hasn't been back to Mass for awhile, or perhaps gotten into the routine of participating in Mass online, and they may simply need a little encouragement or invitation from you to return to Mass with the community.

As we celebrate Corpus Christi this weekend, I invite to reflect on the meaning of the Eucharist in your life. Over this past year, we have taken all kinds of caution to 'be safe,' but I wonder if that idea of 'being safe' has become an idol in our culture. Certainly there is nothing wrong or sinful about protecting one's physical health and being cautious when there is legitimate danger. However, we need to remember where we've come from. As Catholics, we celebrate different martyrs and saints who died or risked their lives for the Eucharist. In places in our world today where Christians are persecuted and killed for their faith in Christ, they risk death every time they go to Mass to receive the Eucharist.

Padre Pio once said, "It is easier for the earth to exist without the sun than without the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass." If that's true, then we need to consider in our own personal faith, in our relationship with Christ, what the celebration of the Mass actually means. We've been hearing and saying, "Be safe," to others regarding the physical harm and even death that Covid 19 could bring if one contracted it. Yet consider how, "Being safe," may apply to the health of our soul.

As we honor the Most Precious Body and Blood of Our Lord Jesus Christ this weekend, (1) who will you reach out to invite to come back to Mass with you; and (2) do an evaluation on your spiritual health and ponder what coming to Mass to celebrate the Eucharist actually means to you. Have a blessed week!

With Mary, In Christ, Fr. Jon

ALIVE!

During the height of the pandemic, when our churches were closed, the Diocese was able to livestream more than 200 faith activities to keep us all connected, including daily and Sunday Mass, daily rosary and Adoration, bible study, book club, retreats and so much more. This was possible because of your gift to the Bishop's Annual Appeal. We will be asking you to make a gift or pledge this year to help us reach our reduced goal of $24,325.70. Please help us reach our goal and strengthen our Catholic Church in Vermont. To learn more or make a gift online visit: bishopsappealvt.org
