

Community Mental Health is transitioning to offer telehealth to continue to provide services to our community. They can provide this service to anyone, including phone call sessions, crisis supports, and assessments over the phone. If you or a family member are experiencing anxiety, depressed moods, etc. that you would like to talk to a therapist, you can contact our local office and you can be set up with a therapist for phone sessions. Please know there are people out there that can help you through this. It's okay to be scared. It's okay to have anxiety. We are all in this together! Community Mental Health Center, 765-647-4173.--
