The Twenty-Seventh Sunday in Ordinary Time

Growing as Disciples of Jesus, Making Disciples For Jesus

Our Lady of Fatima, part 2

In May, we celebrated the 100th anniversary of the beginning of the apparitions of Our Lady to three children at the Cove of Peace in Fatima, Portugal, one week after Pope Benedict XV had implored Our Lady to stop the bloodshed of the 1st World War.

Mary asked the children to pray and offer sacrifice for love of Our Lord and the conversion of sinners, and to come back to that spot for 6 months in a row. They faithfully did this, minus the time they were arrested and threatened with torture unless they said they were lying about the visions of Our Lady.

Mary urged them to pray the Rosary everyday for peace and an end of the war, and promised a great miracle. On October 13th, 1917, 70,000 people came to Fatima, including many atheists of Portugal's leading class. The miracle of the sun was witnessed by all, including people over 15 miles away from the town. Many were converted from wickedness and many others grew in devotion of our Faith. It was a beacon of hope amidst one of the worst times of human history. Our Lady of Fatima continues to inspire many today to work for peace. Please join us at St. Columbkille Saturday, the 14th, to pray a Rosary for peace in our world and our homes.

NEXT Bible Study Class is Oct. 16th.

A Bible Study Opportunity in Frankfort is being offered Lectio, Unveiling Scripture and Tradition – PRAYER, finding Intimacy with God". It will include:

2. Penetrating questions and insights for the six video sessions
3. Additional resources for a fuller understanding and application
4. Daily reflections to deepen the meaning of prayer in your life

Meet at the parish house at 12:00 noon. There will be 6 sessions. Please log onto Formed.org and set up your account (as directed on the church website) and print off the materials for yourself. Each week we will meet to pray together, watch the video, and discuss the questions. Each week we will also be able to reflect back together on the daily reflections associated with the study. All are welcome! Desiray Schreiner will be leading this Bible Study.

If anyone at Sts. Monica/Elizabeth or Columbkille is interested in adult faith formation, please see the pastor.

MARRIAGE MINUTE

What do you think? This weekend, St. Paul gets very specific in his recommendations of what we should think about. Why? Because what we spend time thinking about, we see more of! Thinking about what color to paint your house? All you notice is the colors of the houses in your neighborhood. Chances are, you married someone who is a mix of strengths and weaknesses. Why not spend time thinking about your spouse's wonderful qualities? It won't make the bad things go away, but you will be spending so much time looking for the good that you won't notice as much. This week think about your spouse's: • Most endearing qualities • Most recent sacrificial act • Most attractive traits For more encouragement in thinking the best about your spouse, go to www.JoyfulMarriageProject.com

Reflecting On Sunday's Readings

Fertilizing, weeding and watering the garden was a nuisance I preferred to leave to others. However as a youngster it was a responsibility thrust on me, and a job which I unwillingly carried out with diligence, if not with a positive attitude. To my chagrin when guests visited, my Dad would take them down to show them his garden and share some of his vegetables with them. These occasions produced within me both a spirit of satisfaction and of disappointment; A spirit of satisfaction because my work had resulted in real fruitfulness, a spirit of disappointment because my Dad took all the glory. The parable in this week's Gospel reading deals with similar unfulfilled expectations, and with disappointments. It implies that God had expectations for the people of Israel, and that Israel's response was disappointing. In this parable the landowner's legitimate expectations for his tenant farmers were thwarted, even when he sent his son to see that they were carried out. Not unlike the treatment our Lord received, they responded with hostility resulting in the violent death of the householder's son. In Jesus' case the rejection of his rightful claim as Lord, first took subtle forms; behind the back conversations against him, hostile questioning, judgmentalism, and foot-dragging reticence to follow and respond to him. Eventually this hostility burst forth into overt opposition, conspiracy, and murder. Does God have expectations for you and for me? Most of us today are concerned with our own expectations of others, and with avoiding disappointment, but perhaps we should expend our energies more fully on the opportunity we have to fulfill our Lord's expectations. Will we be faithful stewards, tending the vineyards he has entrusted to us? When we reject him, either subtly by trying to avoid his claim on our lives, or overtly by resisting his will, we suffer by not fully sharing in his life and the good he has for us. Perhaps there can be no fuller joy than to hear Jesus,' "Well done." As we labor in the vineyard he entrusts to us, our heavenly Father wants to rejoice in the fruitfulness of our lives. He not only affirms us but also shares with us his glory, even though we know that it was he who worked and produced the results, and that we were only a willing tool in his hand. "Gardening is the first job that Adam was given in the garden of Eden; it is the symbol of what everybody's job is: shoveling manure to make the unfruitful fig tree (us) bloom. It will never bloom because of the manure, but God, touched by our persevering efforts and patient endurance, may make the thing blossom anyway—not because of our efforts and patience, but because of God's most tender love for us." Gardening requires both a spirit of diligence and faithfulness as we have discussed, but as the second reading points out it also involves the contrasting aspects of dependence and rest. We should faithfully do all we can to produce fruit, but ultimately we must recognize that it is God who gives increase. Knowing this should enable us to relax and work peacefully leaving the outcome to him who works his will through us. Perhaps it is time for us to get our hands dirty tending our Lord's vineyard. When we do, we will experience growth in our lives and see fruitfulness in the lives of others.
