The Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

Growing as Disciples of Jesus, Making Disciples For Jesus

The Conversion of St. Paul, Apostle January 25th

St. Paul's entire life can be explained in terms of one experience—his meeting with Jesus on the road to Damascus. In an instant, he saw that all the zeal of his dynamic personality was being wasted, like the strength of a boxer swinging wildly. Perhaps he had never seen Jesus, who was only a few years older. But he had acquired a zealot's hatred of all Jesus stood for, as he began to harass the Church: "entering house after house and dragging out men and women, he handed them over for imprisonment." Now he himself was "entered," possessed, all his energy harnessed to one goal—being a slave of Christ in ministry of reconciliation, an instrument to help others experience the one Savior.

One sentence determined his theology: "I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting." Jesus mysteriously identified with people—the loving groups of people Saul had been running down like criminals. Jesus, he saw, was the mysterious fulfillment of all he had been blindly pursuing.

From then on, his only work was to "present everyone perfect in Christ. For this I labor and struggle, in accord with the exercise of his power working within me." "For our gospel did not come to you in word alone, but also in power and in the Holy Spirit and with much conviction."

Paul's life became a tireless proclaiming and living out of the message of the cross: Christians die baptismally to sin and are buried with Christ; they are dead to all that is sinful and unredeemed in the world. They are made into a new creation, already sharing Christ's victory and someday to rise from the dead like him. Through this risen Christ the Father pours out the Spirit in them, making them completely new.

So Paul's great message to the world was: You are saved entirely by God, not by anything you can do. Saving faith is the gift of total, free, personal and loving commitment to Christ, a commitment that then bears fruit in more "works" than the Law could ever contemplate.

MARRIAGE MINUTE- Extraordinary Time As we begin the second week of Ordinary Time, it’s a good time to think about our “ordinary lives,” which can often be considered boring. This weekend’s Gospel teaches us that God thinks our “ordinary lives” are meant for more than a dull drudgery. At a wedding feast, Jesus makes water into the choicest wine. That same Jesus is present in the sacrament of your marriage, ready to elevate the ordinary into the extraordinary! To get there, “Do whatever He tells you,” perhaps by: • Finding out why the Church teaches difficult things, such as using natural family planning instead of contraception • Having your marriage serve the Church by mentoring the engaged • Clearing a weekend to attend Worldwide Marriage Encounter or “Living in Love” To find your next event, go to www.archkck.org/JMPEvents.

WELCOME to Fr. Earl Dekat and Fr. Soosai who will be celebrating masses on the weekends while Fr. Anthony is away. We also welcome Fr. Jim Shaughnessy who will be here for Mass on Sunday, Jan. 20th at 4:00 pm,

Reflecting On Sunday's Readings

Marriage is a human relationship which through the inspiration of the Holy Spirit is elevated to a place of supreme importance to depict God's relationship with his people. In the Old Testament Israel is described as "espoused" to the Lord, and in the New Testament we are described as the bride of Christ. So it is not surprising that Jesus chose a marriage ceremony to begin displaying his power and glory. It is also not surprising that the first miracle was the changing of a very ordinary element, water, into an extra-ordinary new substance, fine wine. This event and early miracle from the life of Christ provides signs that foreshadow what Jesus and his ministry intended to accomplish. He had come to initiate, and secure for mankind, a new more intimate relationship with the Father through our uniting with him by faith. The miracle of changing ordinary, utilitarian water into the finest wine pointed to the transforming aspect of that relationship. When we are united with Jesus by faith, it is not the simple merging of the Holy with the unholy, but rather we are transformed by the indwelling presence of the Holy Spirit into a holy thing, his holy people, the Bride of Christ. Even as the water was changed in appearance into fine and flavorful wine, so our union with Christ should result in the transformation of who we are into people whose appearance (character, values, behavior) is qualitatively more flavorful (holy) than what we would naturally be. This miracle was also a sign, or glimpse into Jesus' divinity, enabling the disciples to begin perceiving what Mary already knew—that Jesus is the Messiah,

Emmanuel, God with us, full of glory and power. This week's Gospel reading indicates that they did begin to recognize and believe in Christ. Each week as we observe and participate in the consecration and celebration of the Eucharist we should be reminded of the transforming power and glory of Christ, and that Jesus wants to also change us into his likeness. To those around us we may look like just the same old person but by God's grace our character, values and behavior should reflect a miracle; his transformation of the ordinary into the extraordinary. Transformation begins when we respond to the all-consuming gift of Christ with the freely given gift of ourselves. "Jesus is God-for-us, God-with-us, God-within-us. Jesus is God giving himself completely, pouring himself out for us without reserve. Jesus doesn't hold back or cling to his own possessions. He gives all there is to give. 'Eat, drink, this is my body, this is my blood ... this is me for you.' ... God desires communion: a unity that is vital and alive, an intimacy that comes from both sides, a bond that is truly mutual. Nothing forced or 'willed,' but a communion freely offered and received." (from With Burning Hearts by H.J.M. Nouwen)
