Palm Sunday of the Passion of the Lord

Growing as Disciples of Jesus, Making Disciples for Jesus

Palm Sunday of the Passion of the Lord

Holy Week begins with the festive procession with olive branches as all the people welcome Jesus. But this week continues to the mystery of Jesus' death and resurrection. But what does living Holy Week mean to us? What does following Jesus on his journey to Calvary on his way to the cross and resurrection mean? In his earthly mission Jesus walked the roads of the holy land. He called 12 regular people to stay with him, to share his journey and to continue his mission. He chose them from among the people full of faith in God's promises. He spoke to all without distinction: the great and the lowly, the rich young man and the poor widow, the powerful and the weak. He brought God's mercy and forgiveness. He healed, comforted, understood, gave hope, brought to all the presence of God who cares for every man and woman, just as a good father and good mother care for each one of their children. God does not wait for us to go to him but it is he who moves towards us. That is what God is like.

NOTICE

Holy Thursday

The Holy Week liturgies are unmatched: beginning with Palm Sunday, our remembrance of Jesus' triumphal entrance into Jerusalem and being hailed for coming in the Name of the Lord, through Easter Sunday with the glory of the Resurrection. Thank you in advance to all those who will help make this sacred time possible.

Holy Thursday is when we commemorate the two-fold gift Jesus gives us at the Last Supper: The Holy Eucharist and the Priesthood. If you have been to this Mass before, you know the washing of the feet is an integral part as an example of how we serve, both within Mass and in between each Sunday's Mass. I am in need of 12 adult volunteers to have their feet washed, (6 from Frankfort, and 3 each from Blue Rapids and Blaine). If you plan on being there and will let me serve you in this way please let me know! Fr. Anthony

Pat plans to “retire” as coordinator after this year, so if you would be interested in working some with Pat this year that would be great.

SPECIAL COLLECTION— Pope Francis has asked our parish to support The Pontifical Good Friday Collection which helps Christians in the Holy Land. Your support helps the Church minister in parishes, provide Catholic schools, offer religious education and preserve the sacred shrines. The wars, unrest and instability have been especially hard on Christians and in these times of crisis; this collection provides humanitarian aid to refugees. Through your contribution, you become an instrument of peace and join with Catholics around the world in solidarity with the Church in the Holy Land. For more information about Christians in the Holy Land, please visit www.myfranciscan.org/goodfriday. Please be generous.

FYI ALL PARISHIONERS— Fr. Anthony's current cell phone number has been hacked by scammers. If you receive a text supposedly from him requesting you to purchase I-tune cards or other gifts cards or requesting a “special favor” It is a scam! Do not respond to this. As you recall his e-mail address was hacked while he was in India. Read the article in the April 5th issue of The Leaven. Other Catholics in the Archdiocese have been targeted as well.

CRS RICE BOWL— Palm Sunday Encounter our Neighbors—We encounter Jesus this week in Jerusalem, a community he knew well. We prayerfully enter our own communities too, encountering those who are hungry and thirsty, and those who need our help. How does your Lenten journey motivate us to serve those we meet in our daily lives?

FRANKFORT FOOD PANTRY— Please help us support our local food pantry. There is a basket in the back of church to drop off non-perishable food items.

Reflecting On Sunday's Readings

This Sunday, Passion Sunday, completes the Season of Lent and introduces the beginning of Holy Week, the most memorable week of the liturgical year. For one week of the year we are encouraged to focus all of our faculties on recalling and reliving Jesus' Passion, culminating in an explosion of joy at Jesus' resurrection. We must all confess that in some years Holy Week has been much more meaningful than in others, usually depending on the degree to which we have been able to grasp the significance of his death and resurrection for us. Jesus' Passion is introduced with the joyous acclamation of the people of Jerusalem proclaiming, "Hosanna! Blessed is the One who comes in the name of the Lord," as Jesus entered Jerusalem. Jesus' Passion nears its end with many of the same people tumultuously yelling "Crucify him! Crucify him!" Jesus comes humbly riding into Jerusalem on a donkey's colt, and exits by being taken outside of Jerusalem to be crucified and carried in burial garments to a tomb beyond the city's gate. One thing holds true in this week of contrasts, that is the disciples' inability to grasp what is taking place or the significance of this Passover. Praise be to the Holy Spirit who later made all things clear to them and caused these things to be recorded for our edification for all eternity. In this recounting of Jesus' Passion there appear many characters in whom, with just a little bit of reflection, we can discover ourselves. With dismay we may find ourselves among those who contributed to his death, for as Fr. Richard John Neuhaus points out; "For whom does he pray forgiveness? For the leaders of his own people, a fragile, frightened establishment that could not abide the threat of the presence of a love so long delayed. For pitiable Pilate, forever wringing his hands, forever soiled. For the soldiers who did the deed, who wielded the whip, who drove the nails, who thrust the spear, it all being but a day's work on foreign assignment, far from home. And for us he asks forgiveness, for we were there." (From Death on A Friday Afternoon) If it is with dismay that we discover our complicity in Jesus' death, it is with relief and joyous exaltation that we also discover that we are included among those for whom Jesus prays, asking the Father to forgive. Fr. Neuhaus rightly draws attention to our inclusion both among the guilty standing at the foot of the cross and among those forgiven by Christ from the cross. Sin and its accompanying guilt has been with humankind since the beginning. Someone has jokingly said, "Guilt is the gift that keeps on giving." Unfortunately, never ending guilt is no joke, when it remains unrecognized, unclaimed, and unforgiving. Rather, guilt hangs over us like an ever-abiding cloud blotting out the Son's warmth. If there is no recognized guilt, then there can be no recognized forgiveness. So it is important as we enter Holy Week that we come face to face with both our guilt, and Christ's forgiveness. We must, looking through the eyes of Christ, see ourselves standing in the crowd, unwittingly participating in his crucifixion. However, it is also imperative, lest we not be able to bear it, to hear ourselves included in Jesus' request to the Father for forgiveness. If Christ died to secure our forgiveness and relieve both the penalty and guilt of our sin, we do him and ourselves a great disservice by not acknowledging his completed work of forgiveness, and claiming it as our rightful inheritance as his followers. As the reality of forgiveness grips our soul we too will experience an explosion of joy.
