Pentecost Sunday

Growing as Disciples of Jesus, Making Disciples for Jesus

PENTECOST SUNDAY

“When the time for Pentecost was fulfilled, they were all in one place together. And suddenly there came from the sky a noise like a strong driving wind, and it filled the entire house in which they were. Then there appeared to them tongues as of fire, which parted and came to rest on each of them. And they were filled with the Holy Spirit.”

This third most important day of the year is the full revelation of the Blessed Trinity. God is love (1 Jn. 4:16), and love is his first gift (CCC 733). God's love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us. (Rom. 5:5). The first effect of this love is forgiveness. He then gives us the first fruits of our inheritance: the very life of the Holy Trinity. Throughout our lives and permanently in eternal life, he makes us bear the fruits of the Spirit; love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control.

St. Augustine's prayer to the Holy Spirit

Breathe into me, Holy Spirit, that my thoughts may all be holy. Move in me, Holy Spirit, that my work, too, may be holy. Attract my heart, Holy Spirit, that I may love only what is holy. Strengthen me, Holy Spirit, that I may defend all that is holy. Protect me, Holy Spirit, that I may always be holy.

MARRIAGE MINUTE Come Holy Spirit! Sometimes we forget that we don't walk the road of married life alone! The same Holy Spirit that transformed the Apostles' fear into boldness wants to work in our marriages today. Let us ask the Holy Spirit to intercede for our marriages this weekend in the words of the beautiful sequence we prayed at Mass: Heal our wounds, our strength renew; On our dryness pour your dew; Wash the stains of guilt away; Bend the stubborn heart and will; Melt the frozen, warm the chill; Guide the steps that go astray. On the faithful, who adore and confess you, evermore In your sevenfold gift descend; Give them virtue's sure reward; Give them your salvation, Lord; Give them joys that never end. # Reflecting On Sunday's Readings

God is a God of provision. Just a few examples from Scripture will remind us how important is this truth about God. In creation God provided all that man needed in the Garden of Eden, food, animals, purpose, and even a companion to remove Adam's loneliness and to share in God's calling. When Israel was led from Egypt to the promised land, God provided guidance by day and by night, and food (manna and quail) and water to sustain them in the desert. Jesus continued to demonstrate that God is the God of provision by supplying wine at the wedding of Cana, feeding the thousands who came to hear him, and by instituting the Eucharist meal. So it is not unreasonable to expect that God would continue to provide for the needs of his people after Jesus' ascension. This provision is the Holy Spirit, and comes through his power. Unfortunately, most of us view the Holy Spirit as a concept and doctrinal tenet to which we profess belief, rather than an active power and presence in our life, upon which we can rely. Almost without exception the more than 95 references to the Holy Spirit in the New Testament speak of his doing some action for us. He was given to seal, sanctify, comfort, teach, guide, gift, empower, and send us. He is always an active presence. Equally interesting is the fact that our relationship to the Holy Spirit is dependent upon our actions as well. Consequently, we see in the New Testament that we are to receive, believe, be filled with, and yield to the Holy Spirit, and cautioned not to quench, grieve, resist or lie to the Holy Spirit. He is real and active, and there exists a dynamic interaction between each of us and the Holy Spirit that either enables him to have a growing influence in our life, or that diminishes his influence in our life. And that really is the question we should ask ourselves this Pentecost Sunday, "Am I more in tune with and yielding to the Holy Spirit's influence in my life today than I was a year ago?" Perhaps you're reading this and thinking, "I've really blown it. By my actions and attitudes I have squelched his power and presence in my life." Well cheer up, that is where Christianity triumphs over manmade religion. Through the promise of confession and forgiveness the slate can be wiped clean and you can stand justified before God (just-as-if-I'd never sinned). The Holy Spirit does not require anything else to begin the process of filling our life and fashioning it to conform to the image and character of Christ. All we need to do is to exercise those actions mentioned above, believe, receive, yield, and he will fulfill his part to, sanctify, comfort, teach, guide, gift, empower, and send us. Each day through prayer and yielded-ness we can open our life to an ongoing Pentecost experience where his power and presence becomes more real and active in our life. Origen, accurately speaks of this process of renewal, "The power of God the Father and God the Son is at work in the whole of creation. The saints are those who are fully receiving life in the Holy Spirit. Accordingly, it is said, 'No man can say that Jesus is the Lord except in the Holy Spirit.' "However unworthy the apostles might have been, they were told: 'You shall receive power when the Holy Spirit is come upon you.' This is what is referred to by the phrase, 'he who has sinned against the Son of Man is worthy of forgiveness.' Even if one at times ceases to live according to this divine word, even if one falls into ignorance or folly, the way is not blocked to true penitence and forgiveness. ..." (From the Ancient Christian Commentary on Scripture, Vol. II, Mark, page 44)
