The Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Growing as Disciples of Jesus, Making Disciples for Jesus

St. Thomas, Apostle July 3rd

Thomas is one of the original twelve apostles. His name means twin. He was most likely a Galilean fisherman, like Peter, James, and John. Jesus called him and he followed enthusiastically.

One day a messenger came and told Jesus that his friend Lazarus was quite sick. Mary and Martha, the sisters of Lazarus asked Jesus to come and cure their brother. The apostles knew this would be a dangerous trip for Jesus because he had many enemies living around Jerusalem. At this time Thomas said he would be very glad to go with Jesus and even to die with him.

Later, on Easter Sunday evening when the apostles reported that the Risen Lord Jesus had appeared to them, Thomas refused to believe them. He insisted that he would not believe unless he could touch the wounds in the hands and side of Jesus. A week later, Jesus appeared again to the apostles. This time Thomas was there. Jesus called him over and told him to put his finger into the wounds. Thomas was very ashamed of his unbelief. He fell to his knees and said, "My Lord and my God." Then Jesus said something that should give us great courage and trust. He told Thomas, "Have you come to believe because you have seen me? Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed" (John 20:29).

We do not know for sure what happened to Thomas later on. Tradition says that he went to India and preached there. Perhaps he was martyred there, too. The Catholic people of India believe that he is their special apostle and patron.

St. Thomas is the patron saint of builders, architects, surveyors, the blind, India, Pakistan, and the East Indies.

St. Thomas, pray for us!

Happy Independence Day

July 4th!

For married couples, our main mission is the calling or vocation we received from God to Matrimony. When we stay focused, we maximize happiness in this life and the next. Try the following:

- Attend a yearly marriage retreat.
- Pray daily for and with your spouse.
- Cultivate a mission statement for your marriage.
- Serve the Church together as spouses. Prioritize your mission at the next Living in Love retreat August 10-11: www.archkck.org/livinginlove

Reflecting On Sunday's Readings

Having recently read the biography of Mother Teresa I am impressed by her dedication, and challenged by her willingness to pay the cost of following and serving Christ. She left her family and home at the age of 18 to join a religious order, six weeks later she left England for India which became her home. At 38 she left the convent alone, with only a handful of processions and 5 rupees in her pocket, to found a new ministry to the poorest among the poor. In subsequent years her mission would prevent her from attending the funeral of both her mother and brother. Unprecedented dedication like hers reminds me of Bonhoffer's statement, "When Christ calls a man [or woman] he bids him come die." Perhaps even more impressive is the fruit that was produced by this little life, as Mother Teresa followed her Savior. Along with the ability to see Christ in the poorest of the poor, Christ gifted Mother Teresa with the ability to call thousands into his service. In addition to those called to serve with her in the initial mission in India she enrolled thousands of people in his service by establishing over 388 additional missionary charity foundations, a parallel order for men, and support lay organizations. Remarkable fruit! In this week's Gospel Reading Jesus makes following him very difficult for those who expressed an inclination to do so. But was he in fact making it hard for them to follow or simply making it clear that following him is not for the half-hearted or the faint-hearted. Jesus being always true and merciful would never allow a person to make a life choice of this magnitude under false pretenses, so he simply and graciously stated the cost. Salvation is free—but a life of service is not without cost. Jesus is looking for followers, wholehearted, unencumbered followers devoid of misconceptions regarding the cost, but who still chose to "come die." People who are bound by self-concerns and enslaved to uncontrolled desires are not free to follow. Each time an encumbered person embraces the mission of Christ without counting the cost, they are in danger of becoming like Israel. Israel you'll recall was tempted to turn back from following God to slacken their thirst for the inordinate and ordinary pleasures of Egypt. It is only when a person's love for Christ exceeds their love of self that a person becomes really available to him "The Lord has required that 'whoever will come after him must deny himself.' But what he commands is neither hard nor painful when he himself helps us in such a way so that the very thing he requires may be accomplished...for whatever seems hard in what is enjoined, love makes easy." (Saint Augustine, from Ancient Christian Commentary on Scripture, Vol. II, Mark, page 106). Many of us bemoan the decrease in candidates for religious vocations. I wonder if we have so removed the challenge and dedication of being Jesus' follower that people look elsewhere to fulfill their spirit of sacrifice? Mother Teresa demonstrated that even in the midst of diminishing vocations, people would abandon the easy life to follow Jesus and to serve him wholeheartedly. But it did not seem to be the need that motivated them but rather their deep and abiding love for Christ. Jesus has demonstrated through the Mother Teresa's of the world, both the well-known and the myriad of unknown saints, that if we will give him our heart, he will give us a challenge worthy of our life. What will it take for people to hear the call and respond—dedicated examples, spiritual formation that is grounded in the Scriptures and the Eucharist, and that finds its completion in a deep and abiding love for Christ? This formation needs to take place not only after a person responds to a call to a religious vocation, but long before. For it is out of the love for Christ that has been formed in us that we chose to put our hand to the plow and not look back.
