JULY 7TH 2019

The Fourteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Growing as Disciples of Jesus, Making Disciples for Jesus

St. Benedict, Abbot July 11th

Benedict's name means "blessed." One of the twelve Benedictine monasteries he founded, Monte Cassino, has been destroyed and rebuilt three times. His monks follow the motto "Ora et labora," which means "Pray and work."

Benedict was born in Nursia, Italy. His parents were rather rich, so they sent him to Rome to be educated. When he was about seventeen years old, he decided to leave Rome and become a hermit. He was disgusted with the wild student life all around him. With the help of an older monk, he found a lonely cave on Mount Subiaco, about fifty miles south of Rome. He lived there for three years. Gradually men recognized his holiness and wanted to live the way he did.

Sometime around 529 Benedict led a group of monks further south and built Monte Cassino, the best known of all Benedictine abbeys. There Benedict wrote his famous Rule. This rule of life, based on Scripture, was meant to help all the monks live a common life.

The first duty of his monks was liturgical prayer. The Benedictine monasteries that spread over much of Europe became centers of learning, agriculture, hospitality, and medicine. Benedict's monks helped repair the damage caused by barbarian invaders.

Benedict's influence was so great that his form of religious life became the standard for all monastic life in Europe.

In pictures Benedict is usually shown with a copy of his rule.

St. Benedict is the patron of Europe, farm workers, Italian engineers and architects.

St. Benedict, pray for us!

PETER'S PENCE COLLECTION

Thank you for your support of the Peter's Pence Collection. Our contributions combined with those from our brothers and sisters around the world will help Pope Francis provide essential relief to people in need.

MARRIAGE MINUTE If you are married, you are called, like this weekend's disciples, to prepare the way for Jesus! The love you have for your spouse is God's way of giving the world a tangible example of his own love for them. Consider how you share God's love in the following ways: • To the WORLD: by speaking positively about marriage (and your spouse!) on social media and in conversation with coworkers and acquaintances. • To your PARISH: by volunteering together with your spouse, by helping with marriage building events. • To a SMALL GROUP: in Bible study group, a small group of friends, etc. • To a FEW INDIVIDUALS: by intentionally helping to form your own children, or mentor a few engaged or married couples. Being intentional in these relationships makes us the harvesters that Jesus desires! For more, www.JoyfulMarriageProject.com

WORLDWIDE MARRIAGE ENCOUNTER

God designed marriage to be an "other-centered" union in a "me-centered" world. A Worldwide Marriage Encounter Weekend will give you an unparalleled opportunity to focus on each other and discover God's unique plan for your marriage. The next weekend in the Kansas City area will be July 12-14, 2019. For more information, or to apply for a weekend, visit www.wme4youandme.org, or call/email Tony & Barb Zimmerman at 816-741-4066, tonybarbz@prodigy.net

3-DAY WORKSHOP FOR MEN - AUGUST 8-10

The My House Men's Workshop is a premier Catholic/Christian intensive for men struggling with pornography, sexual behavior problems and/or sexual addiction. The workshop is led by Dr. Todd Bowman, Fr. Sean Kilcawley (www.integrityrestored.com), Michael Ciaccio, and Sam Meier. This workshop is more affordable than similar Christian intensive programs. Please pray that this workshop will provide hope and healing to many men in our area and throughout the US! Here is some of the feedback from our last workshop:

- "It was a well-run, informative, and healing experience.
- "Very, very impressed. Eased my fears of opening up my past sins"
- "Amazing! Encouraging! Hopeful!"
- "Incredible spiritual and psychology weekend. It is the perfect mix of each."

Reflecting On Sunday's Readings

Evangelization and witnessing is often a fearful prospect for many Catholics, yet it is the Christian mandate and one of the highest callings we can pursue. This week's Gospel Reading can help remove that fear by showing us that witnessing for Jesus is simply living and relating to others in such a way that they comprehend that "the Kingdom of God has come near." For many in this world that is the beginning of hope; the realization that God and his life is accessible to them. This passage from the Gospel of Luke is pregnant with principles of evangelization which when applied can remove the anxiety associated with evangelization and contribute to the effectiveness of our witness. These principles include:

METHODOLOGY—The Lord "sent them on ahead of him, two by two." Evangelization always works best when it is a joint effort of two or more people. A companion in Christ reduces the stress of relating and talking to someone about Jesus and it more than doubles the creativity and wisdom that can be brought to the process of revealing the Kingdom of God to others. Having another with whom we can pray for people's conversion is very empowering. Together you can seek the Holy Spirit's intervention to soften and prepare the hearts of pre-believers so that they will be ready to welcome the Good News of God's love and Jesus' sacrifice for them.

ATTITUDE—The Lord said, "I send you out as lambs in the midst of wolves." One reason witnessing has received such a bad rap, and causes many Catholics to shy away from it is that we know and, in many cases, have experienced, the abuses of overzealous witnesses who did not have the attitude of a lamb. Lambs are gentle and meek, humble of heart if you will. It would be totally out of character for a lamb to beat the wolf, or any creature, over the head with the truth. As witnessing lambs, we, with confidence, tell others the Gospel truth of which we have become certain, but we must not attempt to overpower them into the Kingdom. If we are praying for them, if we are romancing them with the loving words of truth, accompanied by a humble spirit of service, they will frequently be wooed into saying "Yes!" to Jesus' offer of redemption and union.

RELATIONSHIP—The Lord instructed them to "remain in the same house, eating and drinking what they provide ... heal the sick in it" Evangelization should not primarily be an onslaught of religious words and challenges but rather an incarnational dwelling among those without Christ. The witness must be willing to dwell among them as a visual aid of God's love within their environment, embracing their culture, and carrying their concerns. In this way Christ comes to dwell among people again, in the form of the witnesses who lend their bodies to Christ so that he can convey his love through them.

MOTIVE—"Nevertheless do not rejoice in this ... rejoice that your names are written in heaven." There is great joy in observing someone's passage from darkness to light. We are thrilled to see someone unite with Christ with whom we have been instrumental in communicating the Gospel, yet we must not be motivated by a trophy mentality. Our relationship with Christ must be the motivating factor for all we do. It must be so meaningful to us that the reason we are witnessing is not for personal glory, but so that others might also experience the joy we know in Christ. He is our motive. Christ desires to reach the world, beginning with your world and your witness. It's unreasonable that a witness should have to be sent from half-way around the world, or even from across the city, to bring the Gospel to your neighbors or your acquaintances. That is why he has you there.
