The Third Sunday in Ordinary Time

Growing as Disciples of Jesus, Making Disciples for Jesus

St. Thomas Aquinas January 28

Thomas Aquinas was a large man and a brilliant student, but he was quiet and seldom spoke. His classmates called him "dumb ox."

Thomas's wealthy family sent him at age five to be taught by the Benedictines in hopes that he would join their community and someday become an abbot. But then the Dominicans' life-style of prayer and study attracted Thomas more, and he joined them instead. His family was upset and shocked that Thomas, a nobleman, would join a group of poor friars, so they captured Thomas and kept him imprisoned for more than a year in a family castle. Nothing would change his mind, however, and they finally released him to rejoin the Dominicans.

Thomas first studied science under Albert the Great, but he preferred theology. One of the greatest Christian thinkers and writers, Thomas Aquinas is well known for his writings in philosophy and theology. He reportedly never forgot anything he read and could dictate to four secretaries at the same time on different subjects. His most famous work, the Summa Theologica, contains five volumes of his thought on all the Christian mysteries. Though he was considered great even in his own time, he remained humble and quiet. He prayed often and acknowledged that his gifts came from God.

While offering Mass on December 6, 1273, Thomas had a spiritual experience. After that he stopped writing completely. He said that after what he had seen, all he had written was just straw. A few months later, the pope invited him to the Council of Lyons in France, but Thomas died on the way.

Thomas had been an advisor to kings, a writer of masterpieces, a counselor to popes, and a teacher of classics. Most of all, Thomas was a servant of God. He is a Doctor of the Church and called "the angelic doctor" for his purity and knowledge.

St. Thomas is the Patron of Catholic schools, students, colleges, philosophers, & theologians.

St. Thomas, pray that we may come to understand our faith better!

If you have any questions or would like to donate in any way, please contact Gloria Heiman at 336-1703.

MARRIAGE MINUTE The idea of repentance is not always pleasant. But when Jesus calls us to repent, it is not to condemn, or to try and make us feel bad... it is an invitation into something wonderful. The Kingdom of Heaven has arrived and repentance is our ticket into the party! The same is true in our marriages. When we refuse to apologize to our spouse, we are locking ourselves out of the joy we long for. • When times are good, decide how you will handle hurts that come between you. • Pray for compassion for your spouse when you are hurt. • Explicitly ask for and grant "forgiveness," even for small offenses. • Decide your relationship is always more important than your pride! Join us for the Living in Love retreat Feb 15-16! www.archkck.org/livinginlove

Reflecting On Sunday's Readings

The contrast of light and darkness was made real for us one fall in Maine, sitting on Cadillac Mountain. Dozens of people, huddled under inadequate blankets, clustered in units of two or three in the cold, damp darkness, sat shivering against hard granite, isolated, uncommunicative, and alone. Each was drawn there to catch the sun's warm penetrating rays of light as it first touched U.S. soil. Simultaneously, everyone cheered as the light appeared and the darkness was transformed. Cameras clicked and clicked to capture the everchanging warmth and beauty, which the light brought as it seemingly emerged from the ocean's coldness. Not only was nature transformed but people also were transformed from reclusive pockets of darkened isolation to smiling animated individuals who for a few moments shared something bright and wonderful. Perhaps there is neither a deeper, nor more impenetrable darkness, or any greater scandal than the hostility and disunity that sometimes exists among Christians. We too often huddle around the cold, granite-like distinctives of our disunity. The Father proclaims in Ephesians that he has united all humanity, Jews and Gentiles, "in one body through the cross ... thus making peace." Yet, we often drive wedges of division into that unity by exalting some unique distinctive, in a spirit of hostility toward others who disagree with us, thus obscuring THE Light. Jesus, the Light of the world, is still ready to transform the darkness of our disunity, if we are ready to share the One Thing we have in common, Jesus himself. This is what Pope John Paul II stressed in Be Not Afraid by Andre Frossard, "The very realization that in spite of everything, what unites us is stronger than what divides us and deeper than what separates us, obliges us to look deeper." He further affirms that, "In the last analysis, the union of Christians can only be a mature gift of the Holy Spirit, accepted by the intelligence, the heart and the will, and translated into acts from year to year." This week's second reading by Paul contrasts the Corinthian's experience of dissensions, quarreling and religious factions, with the increased joy, rejoicing, and communal sharing of this week's first reading by Isaiah. What is the difference? In Corinth the people did not unite and accept with intelligence, heart and will the unity which exists in Jesus, the Light of the world. Instead they united around their various founders and made that their distinctive. Unfortunately, we can know the truth that "the people who sat in darkness have seen a great light," and that for "those who sat in the region and shadow of death light has dawned," and still not experience the Light's warmth and beauty. We can stay huddled under the blanket of our cold indifference, and seek the eluding warmth of a lesser light, or we can, through the repentance of which Jesus speaks in the gospel reading, abandon our icy position and move toward THE Light. He alone offers us lasting warmth and beauty as he brings us together. Christ came to shatter the darkness, and he did. Yet in our humanity we often harbor little areas of darkness where we have not allowed his light to penetrate. So, as we reflect on this coming Sunday's passages, may two things happen. First, may Jesus our Light reveal those areas where he desires to shine and eliminate the remaining visages of darkness. Secondly, may we see ourselves as Light-bearers reflecting his grace, warmth, and oneness to those around us who are still sitting in darkness.
