

Consecration Prayer

*"Lord, I owe my life to you. You gave it to me and you continue to take care of it every day. I want to live, Lord, the years you give me, according to your wishes and your word. I want you to be the one who lives in me, who serves in me, who laughs in me, who suffers in me, who loves for me, who sows your love with my way of loving. Teach me to live. Teach me to discover your call; what you thought the day you created me. Teach me to discover each morning at the beginning of the day, and think each night about the gift you have given me. Make my heart open to the beat of my brothers and sisters, so that all of them can beat to the sound of your heart of Father. Teach me to live for others, as you lived and gave life for us. Jesus, meek and humble of heart, I ardently ask you on this day that I celebrate my fifteenth birthday, to make my heart similar to yours. Cover me with gentleness and patience, meekness and strength, gentleness and vigor. And that those who see me, see you,
Lord. Amen.*
