

The Apex Creed

"The higher we go the clearer we shall hear the voice of Christ!"

An apex member is one who like Pier Giorgio Frassati will help lead people up the mountain to the summit to more clearly hear the voice of Christ. With that an Apex member will learn to live out the following beliefs:

- That they are loved, created, intentional, and unique from God, and that they have infinite worth, value, and dignity because of that.
- That everyone else also is loved, created, intentional, and unique from God and has infinite value, worth, and dignity because of that.

An Apex member like Frassati is dedicated to prayer and hearing the voice of Christ more clearly, so they can share that voice with others. To achieve this Apex members do the following:

- Pray one decade of the Rosary every single day for the teens of Summit.
- Attend Sunday Mass regularly and faithfully by all means within their control and with their parents support.
- Attend all Apex meetings to the best of their ability and control.

An Apex member, like Frassati, knows the importance of relationships and loving others, and so conducts themselves in the following way to express that love of others:

- Arrive at Youth ministry events (sans trips to places like Hershey Park) 30 minutes early as often as able to help set up and be oriented towards their role in the evening.
- To consistently welcome new members to Summit.
- To consistently invite fallen away members, or nonmembers to Summit.
