Reflection by Fr. Javier

First week of classes is over and you are about to begin the second week. Soon we will be at the end of the semester. Today, Jesus is confronting us with a question: Who do you say that I am? A question that is asked not just once - but repeatedly. It is meant to inform the response of our entire life. How we answer this question determines who we will become and how we live. It is a question which cannot be answered indirectly, or reluctantly. It is not enough to depend on what - some say. The question is profoundly personal as well as public.

As you go about your week, I propose you reflect on the following:
What is Jesus saying to you about your identity as his follower?
Who do you say you are?

May God bless your week!
