Solemnity of All Saints November 1

Mr. Pablo Cuadra
Religion Class

PASTOR'S NOTE:

Dear Parishioners,

Today we are celebrating the Solemnity of All Saints. We remember those who already share Christ's glory in heaven, and our common calling to become Saints. Tomorrow, November 2nd we remember especially those Saints who are in purgatory. Let me make a couple comments about this third part of the communion of Saints. First, those who are in purgatory will end up in heaven. Our prayers can help them complete their journey. Second, people frequently ask, "where did belief in purgatory originate?" Is it in the Bible? Belief in purgatory is not explicitly mentioned in Scripture. Belief in purgatory is based on the fact that Jews and Christians pray for the dead. If at the moment of death, a person is immediately in heaven or hell then praying for the dead makes no sense. The practice of praying for the dead led theologians to realize that there must be some state of being after death in which praying for the dead serves a purpose. We call this "purgatory", or place of cleansing. This development of belief in purgatory is a good example of the fact that the way we pray shapes our beliefs and also, that our understanding of God's revelation develops under the guidance of the Holy Spirit.

Fr. Richard Weisenberger
