Why do we offer Mass for a specific intention? Aren't Masses offered for the intentions of all present?

The Eucharist makes present, in this moment, the memorial sacrifice of Christ; the source of the Church's life and the focus of the Church's prayer (see the Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy [Sacrosanctum Concilium], 10). Mass always includes the intentions of a local community as well as the needs of all people throughout the world. In the Eucharistic prayer, we pray for the community and those "scattered throughout the world."

What does a renewed liturgical practice mean for specific Mass intentions? Canon law speaks of applying the Mass for anyone living and dead (see Canon 901). The practice also has roots in history, especially during medieval times, when participation at Mass was at a low. Asking the priest to remember an intention kept people active and connected their needs to those of the wider Church. Vatican II stressed active participation in its liturgical renewal, so asking specific intentions needs a renewed understanding.

Special intentions provide a value—we become aware of others' needs and troubles. If we are aware of how these troubles affect a member of our parish, we can not only pray for that person but reach out and help. However, the Eucharist does not give grace only to those named in special intentions. The grace God gives through the Eucharist is meant for the whole Church. God's grace builds us up in holiness. Since people find special intentions important, the response from pastors is important in helping people understand how God's grace affects everyone.

—Fr. John Schmidt, CSSR

I hear myself in the 'defiant' voice of the first son in our parable today, but I also see myself in the 'slacking' action of the second one Jesus uses to illustrate the faithful obedience of His model disciples. I know I have a lot to learn! Growing up, how many times Dad may have asked me to do a job, and I eagerly said, "Absolutely I will. Right on it!" Only instead, to go piddle around, off playing a game or chasing the train! I said I would, but didn't follow through!

AND then, there were other times Dad told me to do a chore, and I obstinately pouted, saying, "No, I don't want to do that!" BUT, after thinking about it, I realized I might WANT to fulfill his request, and I did the chore! I wish I could say I had a spiritual 'change of mind', doing the right thing because I was faithfully following the fourth commandment, being a 'good son'. But it may have been for another reason, like realizing I did want to eat dinner, or be given a ride to football practice. This parable sets two lessons in front of me: 1) Say what you mean, and 2) do what you say!" Each son had half of it, one said 'Yes' and didn't follow through and the other said "No" but did in fact complete the job. As good followers of Jesus, we should do both! Say 'Yes', being willing to serve God, and then be faithful to completing the jobs we are given!

By teaching this parable, I imagine Jesus is motivating His followers to possess the right disposition of soul and body. In our hearts, we are eager to serve, and with our bodies, we are quick to step up and serve with action. Yet, Jesus is also confronting 'hypocrisy' among His own followers and others: those who especially 'profess the right things'. Think of the Pharisees, of whom Jesus will say in Matthew 23:3, "do and observe all things whatsoever they tell you, but do not follow their example. For they preach but they do not practice." Just because we 'say' the right things, does not mean we are 'doing' the right things. Patience is needed to wait and see if 'GOOD' really materializes from the 'right things said'! So, I think Jesus is sharing this parable as an invitation for our own continued conversion. If you are saying the right things, then keep on and make certain to take the next step of doing it! If you are not saying the right thing, then get on board, and change your programming. Pray and discern what task God is assigning you. Then daily remind yourself of that God-given task, and commit to it putting this good work into action! It starts with the right disposition, that leads to saying the right words, which become right actions when we keep applying the right motivation. We start by seeking God and His will for our life, and then we apply our daily acts to bring it about, fulfilling it!

Throughout the gospels Jesus says and shows the importance of backing up our words with actions. Christians need to be more than 'talk'. 1) He says, in Matthew 7:21 "Not everyone who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,' will enter the kingdom of heaven, but only the one who does the will of my Father in heaven." More concisely he repeats this message in Luke 6:46 "Why do you call me, 'Lord, Lord,' but not do what I command?" Because, Jesus said of Himself in John 6:38 "I came, not to do My own will, but to do the will of Him who sent Me." AND then 2) in the face of those who doubt His saying it, he added in John 10:38 "even if you do not believe me, believe the works themselves." Recall that Jesus told John Baptist's followers who questioned whether he was the 'real deal' as the 'Messiah', "Go and tell John what you hear and see" (Matthew 11:4). He means, "Go tell John what I say and do!" With Jesus, it is all one! He is the model, as he says in in John 10:25 "The works I do in my Father's name testify to me." Or as we know already know about Him, He is the 'Word made Flesh' (John 1:14). With Jesus, there is no posturing and no fronting! He is what he says! The Real Deal!

Pope Francis says the same in his letter Evangelii Gaudium (#233) that "Realities are greater than ideas-this principle has to do with 'incarnation of the word' and its being put into practice." "By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is from God" (1 Jn 4:2). This reality principle ... is essential to evangelization." Our great teacher, St Thomas Aquinas also, emphasized the 'ACTUAL' as the only thing real. In his Encyclopedic Summa Theologica he wrote "unumquodque cognoscibile est secundum quod est in actu" (Don't you love Latin?) which means "Everything is knowable so far as it is in act," (Prima Pars Q 87, a. 1). This is what we all mean everyday when we say things like "Sure, that is a fine thing to say, but I'll know it when it is done," or "While I hear what you're saying, I'll really understand when I see/do it." You know the tree by its fruit. Jesus is true 'live action'!

I give the last word this week, to the spiritual classic 'The Imitation of Christ' from Book III, chap 30, God says, "What hinders you most is that you turn yourself to me too slowly, before you pray heartily to me, you first seek many other comforts and refresh yourself with outward things.... All you do helps you so little, until you see that I am He who sends comfort to all who faithfully call to me..... are you like the man who says a thing and does not do it?" So often, we do everything but what helps us most! Seems simple enough: Jesus' saying & doing! Follow It!

Here are some daily questions to consider in our prayer time!

Sunday: If I had to repeat and summarize the gospel message from mass, what would I say? What message do I carry into this coming week?

Monday: Am I eager to serve God? Do I see my service to others as God's service?

Tuesday: Am I person of my word, fulfilling what I say? Do others view me as 'reliable'?

Wednesday: Are there 'undone' or 'unfinished' tasks I need to address in my following of Christ? How may I serve Him better?

Thursday: Have I been faithful in giving God the time in my daily prayer to speak with me and clarify His call for my life?

Friday: Perform an act of sacrifice and penance today, to unite your sufferings to Christ's Saturday: For what am I especially thankful from this weekend, or Today? Consider coming early to Mass and offer a rosary of thanksgiving!

Peace and Prayers, Fr Brian Johnson

PRAYER AND SPIRITUALITY

A Word from Pope Francis:

"If the Church was born Catholic (that is, universal), it means that it was born to 'go out,' that it was born missionary. The love of Christ compels us to offer our lives for the Gospel. Such life-giving dynamism dries up if we lose our missionary enthusiasm. For this reason life is strengthened in giving it away, and weakens in isolation and agitation. Those who 'make the most' of the chances life offers are the ones who leave the safe shore and become passionate about the mission of communicating life to others. Jesus tells His disciples that they are salt of the earth and light of the world. Both salt and light operate in service. The Church has the task of preserving from corruption and giving flavor like salt while as light she "prevents darkness from prevailing, ensuring a clear vision of reality and the purpose of existence." (Papal Address 9-18-2017)

TWENTY-SIXTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME; RESPECT LIFE SUNDAY

To life!

The call to respect life confronts the multiple ways life is often devalued in our world—war, capital punishment, and abortion, among others. It is not only a call “out there in the world” but also a call within each of us. We can take this message to heart in every situation we encounter, and each day offers many opportunities—large and small—to respect life by the way we treat one another. What is one choice for life that you can make today?

TODAY'S READINGS: Ezekiel 18:25-28; Philippians 2:1-11; Matthew 21:28-32 (136). “Complete my joy by being of the same mind, with the same love, united in heart, thinking one thing.”

MEMORIAL OF THE HOLY GUARDIAN ANGELS

Our better angels

The tradition of a guardian angel that guides and protects each person in life developed gradually in the church. Devotion to angels grew in the monastic tradition, beginning with Saint Benedict and getting a big boost from the 12th-century reformer Saint Bernard of Clairvaux. By the 16th century the feast the church celebrates today in honor of guardian angels was well established. Whether you embrace the tradition literally or think of angels as expressions of God's love and care extended to all of creation—or both—today is a day to be thankful that you do not walk alone in the spiritual life.

TODAY'S READINGS: Zechariah 8:1-8 (455); Matthew 18:1-5, 10 (650). “Amen, I say to you, unless you turn and become like children, you will not enter the kingdom of heaven.”

Time to decide

Some things in our lives can be left to float in indecision or even inattention. That's the pile of stuff on your desk or in the closet you keep adding to but never subtract from. Other things require commitment. And every commitment we make is an act of faith in God, faith that God will see us through, come better or worse. Think of the extraordinary commitments we make to friends, spouses, family, neighbors, and employers.

Sometimes it is time to choose. Or, as Yogi Berra quipped: When you come to a fork in the road, take it!

TODAY'S READINGS: Zechariah 8:20-23; Luke 9:51-56 (456). “When the days drew near for him to be taken up, he set his face to go to Jerusalem.”

MEMORIAL OF FRANCIS OF ASSISI

Honor your mother

In his wonderful Canticle of the Creatures, Saint Francis of Assisi praises God for the delightful family he has enjoyed in the creatures he calls Sir Brother Sun, Sister Moon, Brother Wind, Sister Water, and Brother Fire. His prayer for Sister Mother Earth includes praise for the one who “sustains and governs us, and who produces varied fruits with colored flowers and herbs.” Two days ago was “World Habitat Day.” Saint Francis would approve. Find a way this year to commit yourself to the health of our planet who is our sister and mother.

TODAY'S READINGS: Nehemiah 2:1-8; Luke 9:57-62 (457). “Foxes have dens and birds of the sky have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere to rest his head.”

MEMORIAL OF BLESSED FRANCIS XAVIER SEELOS, PRIEST
Be of good cheer

What's the secret to a joyful life? It is not about enjoying happy circumstances, or all privileged people would be smiling and the rest of us would be in therapy. Joy is a fruit of the Holy Spirit, which was very apparent in the life of the “cheerful ascetic” Blessed Francis Xavier Seelos (1819-67). This Redemptorist priest was best known for his simplicity, sincerity, and good cheer in every situation. Once, upon escaping the fate of being named bishop of Pittsburgh, he threw a party! Before he died while serving victims of the yellow fever epidemic in New Orleans, Seelos declared: “To become holy is our only purpose in life.” Pray the Joyful Mysteries of the Rosary today to inhabit the spirit of joy.

TODAY'S READINGS: Nehemiah 8:1-4a, 5-6, 7b-12; Luke 10:1-12 (458). “The harvest is abundant but the laborers are few.”

MEMORIAL OF BLESSED MARIE ROSE DUROCHER, VIRGIN
Pass the torch with loving attention

Among the short list of most influential people in your life surely there is a teacher or two, most likely from your early years of education. Saint Marie Rose Durocher, who founded an order in Quebec with a strong teaching ministry, was herself deeply influenced by those who taught her along the way. Her first teacher, in fact, was her paternal grandfather, who home-schooled her until the age of 10. The wisdom of tradition is preserved when it is passed from one generation to the next. Honor those who inspired you by doing the same for those who are coming up after you.

TODAY'S READINGS: Baruch 1:15-22; Luke 10:13-16 (459). “If today you hear his voice harden not your hearts.”

MEMORIAL OF OUR LADY OF THE ROSARY

Draw a bead on the Rosary

Rarely do we pass a statue of Mary that is not originally draped by the artist—and eventually by her devotees—with a rosary: around her neck, across her hands, or anywhere it's possible to dangle one. Some statues are so laden with rosaries by the fervent that it's a wonder Our Lady can stand up under the strain! This reality contrasts with the story that it was Mary who gave the Rosary to the early Carmelite Saint Simon Stock—and by extension, to all of us. We're the ones who need a little help getting our prayer on, after all! As Rosary Month moves forward, have you found your beads yet?

TODAY'S READINGS: Baruch 4:5-12, 27-29; Luke 10:17-24 (460). “Blessed are the eyes that see what you see.”
