Recently a genetic testing kit became available. Does the Church have any teaching on these tests?

In principle the Church is not opposed to genetic testing. The number of tests available seems to rise almost daily. The critical issue from a moral standpoint is what we do with the information that is gained.

Any use of the information to harm people would be judged immoral—for example, using genetic information to detect Down syndrome in a fetus with the subsequent abortion of a developing life. Another example would be using genetic information against people seeking employment or health insurance.

Another concern is the impact that genetic testing results might have on the person receiving it. For example, a person may wish to know if he carries the gene for Huntington's disease, an illness that will surface in his life if he has the gene. There is no cure for this debilitating disease. However, the information may assist him in preparing himself and others for the time when the disease will manifest itself.

In other instances, however, genetic information may lead to prevention and treatment of disease. Such testing would allow spouses to know if they carry a particular gene, for example, associated with cystic fibrosis. A couple finding themselves carriers of the gene should bear this in mind as they make decisions about responsible parenthood. Summarizing, information obtained from genetic testing holds promise and potential peril. The dignity and life of persons should guide judgments about the morally acceptable use of genetic information.

Family Movie Night: "A Wrinkle In Time" is a new Disney mega hit, it is "packed with Imagination" and "it's all Heart." Meg Murry is a typical middle school student struggling with issues of self-worth who is desperate to fit in. As the daughter of two world renowned physicists, she is intelligent and uniquely gifted as is Meg's younger brother Charles Wallace, but she has yet to realize it for herself. Making matters even worse is the baffling disappearance of Mr. Murry, which torments Meg and has left her mother heartbroken. Charles Wallace introduces Meg and her fellow classmate Calvin to three celestial guides...Mrs. Which, Mrs. Whatsit, and Mrs. Who, who have journeyed to help search for their father, and together they set off on their formidable quest. Traveling via a wrinkling of time and space known as tessering, they are soon transported to worlds beyond their imagination where they must confront a powerful evil. To make it back home to earth, Meg must look deep within herself and embrace her flaws to harness the strength necessary to defeat the darkness closing in on them. ## PRAYER AND SPIRITUALITY

GOSPEL MEDITATION

July 22, 2018 16th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"Now what?" It's a difficult thing to hear, isn't it? The train comes late, a child unexpectedly cries, and the latest public policy debate flares up in the news. Life throws us curveballs, and we have no choice but to adapt. Jesus and the Apostles find themselves in that exact situation in today's Gospel.

The Apostles have returned from their two-by-two missionary journey. As Jesus hears all of their stories, he knows they need time to recover and refresh. "Come away by yourselves to a deserted place and rest a while." Their wilderness retreat is short-lived, however, as eager crowds discover their location. Jesus is well aware of the needs of his disciples. Still, as he looks out at the crowd, "His heart was moved with pity for them, for they were like sheep without a shepherd." The rest break is over. "He began to teach them many things." For those of us who have experienced a taste of much-needed relaxation only to have it taken away abruptly, perhaps we surmise what the Apostles might have been feeling in that moment. But Jesus isn't being inconsiderate of the Apostles' needs. He offers them -- and us -- a lived lesson. St. John Paul II wrote, "The whole of Christ's life was a continual teaching: his silences, his miracles, his gestures, his prayer, his love for people, his special affection for the little and the poor, his acceptance of the total sacrifice on the Cross for the redemption of the world" (On Catechesis in Our Time, 9). In Jesus' choice to teach, we see all of these things: sacrificial love, concern for the marginalized, and priority of people's needs over personal preference. These aren't abstract ideals. They're lived realities as we strive to live and love like Jesus. When a new obstacle confronts you in your life, how do you respond?

Family Day at Gasper River: Sunday, August 19th, the day begins at 12:30 pm (eat before you come!) and concludes at 6 PM (after supper). Expect a mix of inside and outside activities, so please dress accordingly. Outside fun includes field games, a few adventure activities like the zipline and giant swing, and free time to explore.

The theme of the day is "Encountering Jesus in the Eucharist" with reflections by Fr. Mike Williams (for parents) and closing Mass with Bishop Medley.

SIXTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Ease up!

Are you living at one speed all the time: busy, busy, busy? Some of us are overextended, many of us have never learned to say no, and more than a few of us hang our self-worth on the precarious hooks of what we can accomplish. Even Jesus took time out for retreat and recollection. When was the last time you went on retreat? Do you take the occasional night off, observe a real Sabbath rest, sit for five minutes in a quiet, empty church? Block out time on your calendar not to do, but to be with God.

TODAY'S READINGS: Jeremiah 23:1-6; Ephesians 2:13-18; Mark 6:30-34 (107). "Come away by yourselves to a deserted place and rest a while."

Monday, Jul 23, 2018

MEMORIAL OF BRIDGET, RELIGIOUS

Give God a try

From the moment we're born we face challenges in life. We learn how to walk—and we take some tumbles. We allow ourselves to fall in love—and we experience heartache. We work hard to be better people—and we sometimes fall short. It takes faith to attempt things without knowing how they'll turn out. Fear can tempt us to not try hard at anything. Yet we're all called by God to do and be more than we can envision! We see that in stories of our ancestors in faith, such as Moses, who, by the grace of God and the willingness to try, achieved remarkable things. How have you allowed God to work in and through you today?

TODAY'S READINGS: Micah 6:1-4, 6-8; Matthew 12:38-42 (395). "Teacher, we wish to see a sign from you."

Tuesday, Jul 24, 2018

MEMORIAL OF SHARBEL MAKHLÛF, PRIEST

Listen up

Saints haven't always done big things like bring the gospel to whole continents or found great religious orders—laudable though those achievements have been. Sometimes they just sat by the door and listened to God and the people who visited them. Many visited Saint Sharbel (1828-98), a Lebanese hermit, for his blessing and counsel. The service he rendered consisted almost entirely of welcoming, listening, and praying with anyone who came to him. Do you have an attentive and welcoming friend who can help you find a way through your troubles? Can you be that attentive friend to others who need some support?

TODAY'S READINGS: Micah 7:14-15, 18-20; Matthew 12:46-50 (396). "For whoever does the will of my Father in heaven is my brother and sister and mother."

Wednesday, Jul 25, 2018

FEAST OF JAMES, APOSTLE

Take a big gulp

Saint James was a disciple of John the Baptist who took up Jesus' call to follow him. Brash, impulsive, and hotheaded (he and his brother John were nicknamed by Jesus the "Sons of Thunder"), James was rebuked on several occasions, but he proved himself when put to the test. He dedicated his life to spreading Jesus' gospel, traveled to Samaria, Judea, and Spain in the name of Christ, and died a martyr's death—the first apostle to do so—in Jerusalem in the year 44. James drank deeply from the cup Jesus passed to him. Prepare yourself each day through small acts of faith to do the same.

TODAY'S READINGS: 2 Corinthians 4:7-15; Matthew 20:20-28 (605). "Jesus asked the sons of Zebedee, 'Are you able to drink the cup that I am about to drink?'"

Thursday, Jul 26, 2018

MEMORIAL OF JOACHIM AND ANNE, PARENTS OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

A grand legacy

Joachim and Anne, the parents of Mary, are not mentioned in scripture, but legend says they were childless until they experienced simultaneous annunciations indicating that God had other plans. While Grandparents Day was established in 1979 "to help children become aware of strength, information, and guidance older people can offer," today's memorial of Jesus' grandparents emphasizes handing on the treasure of faith. The affinity that the old and the very young often have for each other in our families is an opportunity to leave grandchildren an inheritance of love.

TODAY'S READINGS: Jeremiah 2:1-3, 7-8, 12-13; Matthew 13:10-17 (398). "Blessed are your eyes, because they see, and your ears, because they hear."

Friday, Jul 27, 2018

The good earth

To be "honest as dirt" may not seem much of a compliment, but it is. A nicer word might be humus, a word taken directly from Latin that means "earth." And from this root our word humility comes. Humility has a bad rep because it is often mistaken for humiliation. But humility has nothing to do with groveling. What it means is "I am who I am before God: nothing more, and nothing less." That kind of humility ("I need you, Lord!") is the honest soil in which the word can take hold, take root, take heart, and bloom. Worry less about briars: just need the Seed.

TODAY'S READINGS: Jeremiah 3:14-17; Matthew 13:18-23 (399). "The seed sown on rich soil is the one who hears the word and understands it."

Saturday, Jul 28, 2018

Tough love

In his book People of the Lie: The Hope for Healing Human Evil, psychologist and best-selling author M. Scott Peck takes up one of the most difficult problems human beings face in this mysterious life: the problem of human evil. Why does it exist, and why does a good God permit it? Peck doesn't provide any simple answers, but he does caution us not to give into the temptation when we are harmed, to return evil with evil and exact revenge. Leave the judgment to Jesus. Weeds eventually are separated from wheat, but that is not your job. Hard as it may be, you are called to return evil with love. Do your best.

TODAY'S READINGS: Jeremiah 7:1-11; Matthew 13:24-30 (400). "Let them grow together until harvest."
