

A Daily Point to Ponder

Monday, March 23, 2020

Lent is a time of going very deeply into ourselves...What is it that stands between us and God? Between us and our brothers and sisters? Between us and life, the life of the spirit? Whatever it is, let us relentlessly tear it out, without a moment's hesitation. Catherine De Hueck Doherty

Tuesday, March 24, 2020

It is not dutiful observance that keeps us from sin, but something which we develop by our own powers alone. It is a sublime gift of the divine mercy, and the fact that we live in the realization of this mercy and this gift is the greatest source of growth for our love and for our holiness. Thomas Merton

Wednesday, March 25, 202, The Annunciation

Listen to the Savior:

I regenerated you;

I set you free;

I healed you;

I redeemed you.

I will give you life that

Is unending, eternal, supernatural. St. Clement of Alexandria

Thursday, March 26, 2020

If you can't completely free yourself from all your worldly attachments, at least try to shed some of them to lessen the burden of your journey. Rumi

Friday, March 27, 2020

"Charity" may be a very short word, but with its tremendous meaning of pure love, it sums up one's entire relation to God and to one's neighbor. St. Aelred of Rievaulx

Saturday, March 28, 2020

Spotting faults in others is easy and rehashing them, even easier, but recognizing your own faults is a real mystery! Rumi