SIXTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

“In his “sermon”, Christ begins with the subject of anger and the division between brothers and sisters. This is often times the beginning of sins and temptations in our lives. But when we long for the righteousness that God requires of us, we find strength to resist such failings and divisions that ultimately separate us from God. We can foster this longing by time wisely spent in meditation on God’s words in the Scriptures, praying the rosary intentionally and focusing on the mysteries of Christ’s life that it contains, daily prayer and examine of conscience, and ultimately the realization of Christ’s Real Presence in the Most Holy Eucharist. When we invest our desire and time in God, it will produce righteous effects in our lives.”
