JULY 25: ST. JAMES THE GREATER

James was one of the first Apostles called by Jesus to "Follow Me". He was a fisherman like his father and his brother John was also called to follow Jesus. Jesus called James and his brother to become fishers of men, which means they would go out and tell people the good news about Jesus and they would help many people become followers of Jesus too. James was present at some very special moments during Jesus' life; the miracle of raising Jairus' daughter from the dead; the transfiguration of Jesus on the mountain; and the agony of Jesus in the garden of Gethsemane. He was given the gifts of healing and casting out evil spirits from people. Jesus called St. James, St. Peter and St. John the "Sons of Thunder", which could mean they had a bit of a temper and were impatient when people didn't believe in God. Although St. James was with Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane, when Jesus was arrested St. James ran away in fear. After Jesus rose from the dead, he appeared to St. James with the other Apostles and St. James received courage through the Holy Spirit to spread the Good News to many people. He was killed for his faith in Jesus and is one of the first martyrs of the Church.

GOD ANSWERS ALL OUR NEEDS

Today we hear the familiar story of Jesus feeding the 5,000 people on just five loaves and two fish. The reading from 2 Kings also speaks of God's miraculous feeding of a crowd. These passages remind us that nothing is impossible for God, and that He wants to feed His people. Add in Psalm 145, and you see the overall message for today: God will provide EVERYTHING we need — not just food – and He will do so abundantly! Sometimes in our discipleship, it is easy to fall into the lie that we are the ones doing all the work and that it is up to us to solve the world's problems. The truth is, our Heavenly Father already has the solutions, we need only look to Him in faith and hope! And we might want to be prepared for a solution that defies reason, like feeding 5,000 people with a meager sack lunch! Don't make excuses. Don't point out the flaws in God's plan. Simply take action and believe. God will "satisfy the desire of every living thing."

CALLED & GIFTED WORKSHOP NEXT WEEKEND!

Here at St. John's, in conjunction with the parishes of Holy Spirit and St. Peter's, we offer Part 1 of the Called and Gifted discernment process. Our next workshop is July 30-31st. DEAR CLONMELIANS,

Summer is going by faster than I would like and I've not experienced the slower pace often expected during this time of year. We are quickly approaching the end of July, meaning we are headed into that time of preparing for the start of school. I am grateful that this year will return us to many of our usual experiences of community and school.

Many of you submitted feedback last weekend on the renderings of the new church building. I am grateful for your feedback and they have led the building committee to review certain elements of the design. One of those is the desire for a choir loft. We are working with our architect to explore the costs and design of how to accommodate that addition. We would also like to invite you to participate in voting on whether or not you would like to have a choir loft in the new church. Please vote using our latest Flocknote from 7/23/2021 on our website at: stjohnsclonmel.org/about-us

Responses to Feedback

Choir loft – A loft would provide an ideal placement for our musicians for the sake of sound. The loft would also provide space for additional storage. The addition of a choir loft is something we discussed at our most recent Building Committee meeting and have asked the architect to show us what it might look like and what the additional cost might be. Further feedback is welcome from you on the potential to add a choir loft to our new church.

Outside Stone relief – On the exterior renderings there is an Irish cross stone relief. Several asked if that could be a stained glass window. Without a choir loft it would be above the ceiling of the gathering space and would need to be backlit. If a choir loft is added it would be visible at the back of the loft and would let in natural light. It is possible to make this change without much difficulty and is one we will consider moving forward.

Special needs seating – Seating for those with special needs is placed throughout the building. There are spaces for wheelchairs or padded chairs at the center back of the church, in the middle sides of the church, and at the center front of the church. We can also accommodate those with special needs in either transept of the church.

Adoration chapel – The is an adoration chapel in the transept of the church, behind the baptismal font. The plan is to make this chapel accessible 24-hours a day with seating for approximately 12 people. There will be designated parking near the chapel entrance. This chapel will have a restroom attached that will also serve as the restroom for the cry room. Dual use here prevents us from having to add another restroom.

Stained glass – We are planning to have stained glass in the windows of the church. We have not made a determination as to what Saints or scenes will be in the windows but will be seeking the input of the parish when the time comes. The addition of these windows will bring a lot of color to the church that is not depicted in the renderings. We have six windows in the main body of the church, three more in the music transept, and two up high in each transept. If you have preferences for what should be depicted in these windows, you are encouraged to share your ideas with the committee.

Fr. Joe
