Wisdom of the Saints

“As the prophet says, ascending on high he led captivity captive; he gave gifts to men. The undoubted meaning of these words is this: that since the devil led the human race captive, our Lord, by wresting it from him, took it captive himself, and as the prophet tells us, led that very captivity to the heights of heaven. Both captivities do indeed bear the same name, but they differ one from the other. The devil's captivity means enslavement; Christ's, on the contrary, means restoration to freedom.” ~ St. Maximus of Turin

“Moses brought out of Egypt a timid nation, and in the space of forty years trained it to be full of valor for the task of conquering the promised land; Christ in forty days trains his apostles to be bold and patient instead of cowards. They mourned and wept at the beginning of the season, but at the end they are full of courage for the good fight; their spirits mount high with their Lord, and when he is received out of their sight, and their own trial begins, they return to Jerusalem with great joy, and are continually in the temple, praising and blessing God.”
~ St. John Henry Newman

“Gladden us with holy joys, Almighty God, and make us rejoice with devout thanksgiving, for the Ascension of Christ your Son is our exaltation, and where the head has gone before in glory, the body is called to follow in hope.” ~ Collect Prayer II, Ascension of the Lord

Dear Parishioners,

We've just passed the 40-day mark since the Resurrection. Ascension Thursday marked the 40th day itself. We now have 9 days until the feast of Pentecost, in which the Holy Spirit descends upon the Apostles. Those nine days, between the Ascension and Pentecost, are the original novena! The very word novena comes from the word for nine, and in Christian usage it refers to a time of dedicated prayer. Our novenas follow the pattern set by the Apostles as they prayed, fasted, and prepared for the coming of the Holy Spirit.

Before leaving the Ascension behind us, I wanted to mention an important aspect of the feast. In addition to celebrating Christ's kingship and enthronement in power, it also celebrates the triumph of humanity. Pope St. Leo comments on the Apostle's joy in the Ascension: "Indeed that blessed company [of the Apostles] had a great and inexpressible cause for joy when it saw man's nature rising above the dignity of the whole heavenly creation, above the ranks of angels, above the exalted status of archangels. Nor would there be any limit to its upward course until humanity was admitted to a seat at the right hand of the eternal Father, to be enthroned at last in the glory of him to whose nature it was wedded in the person of the Son." The idea is that the humanity of Jesus, a real instance of our humanity, has gone into heaven. If a real man can go to heaven, then we can follow. If a real man can reign in heaven, then we can rejoice. If a real man can see God, then we too can hope for the beatific vision.

The early saints had a favorite line about salvation. They said, "what is not assumed, is not redeemed." That is, what is "assumed" upwards and united to God, is redeemed and saved. Humanity needs to be brought up into unity with God. And so humanity is saved by there being a real human, Jesus, who is united to God, because He is God. That is St. Leo's point. In the Ascension of Jesus, we see the path being blazed for ourselves, too. We see a real human going where we can now go. We see salvation being brought to completion for the first time.

Also, a reminder that the email address rccoffice@gmavt.net will soon be defunct. No more. Gone. The only email will be rcc.office@vermontcatholic.org Also, just a heads up that I'll be off next weekend, but don't worry, I will return in the same manner in which you saw me go.

Finally, we have a Project Point Person lined up for OLS: Jim Tabor. A big thank you to Jim for his willingness to step up! For St. Pat's, we had some "soft" volunteers, so if you're really hankering to do it, and you've been holding back, now's your last chance to step up! Again, the idea is that the point person will help coordinate volunteers, track which projects are at what stage, and track costs / collect receipts.

God bless,
Fr. Matthew
