

What is the Meaning of Christmas?

The meaning of Christmas is not putting ornaments on trees, decorating your house, or even receiving gifts. Christmas is about something much more, the thing that Ebenezer Scrooge learned. The thing that turned him from a miser to the most generous man you have ever met. The thing he learned was to be generous and kind to all.

Christmas is a time of giving and generosity. Give to those you love and those you have never met before but who need it. When you give gifts to others it is to remind them of the greatest gift ever given, when God gave us His only son on Christmas Day. Remind everyone of God's great love in your actions and your words. This is what Christmas is all about.

Christmas is also about spending time with your family and those you love. The Cratchits are a great example for this in how they love each other so much and are grateful for the little they have. Be thankful for the family you have, for one of them could leave your side at any moment. If you are suffering, do not be rude or angry, be kind like the little angel Tiny Tim.

Tiny Tim is the perfect example of how to live your life, especially around Christmas. He is so kind even though he is crippled and sick. He wants everyone to be happy and puts them before himself. He even says that he hoped people in church saw him since he was a cripple so that they would remember on Christmas Day who made lame beggars walk and blind men see.

The meaning of Christmas is giving to those who you know and those you do not. You give to remind them of the greatest gift, Jesus. We must remind people of God's great love in our words and in our deeds. Christmas is also about spending time with your family and loving them like the Cratchits. To live a holy life, be like Tiny Tim, the selfless angelic little boy. If you live Christmas, and your life this way, you will change like Scrooge and become a generous selfless person.
