

What does a "1, 2, 3" student look like for Effort and Conduct in PE class?

EFFORT

1	Student consistently participates from start to finish in conditioning, form running drills, running warm ups, and activity time to the best of their ability.
	Student consistently shows respect to self and others.
	Student consistently demonstrates leadership during all of class period.
	Student consistently comes prepared to class.
	Student consistently is in squad spot and ready to learn on time.
	Student consistently follows directions.
	Student consistently show good sportsmanship.
	Student consistently is focused and stays on task.
Student consistently follows all safety rules
2	Student participates in conditioning, form running drills, running warm ups and activity time.
	Student shows respect to self and others.
	Student comes prepared to class.
	Student is usually in squad spot.
	Student is on task.
	Student follows directions.
Student follows safety rules.
3	Student inconsistently participates in conditioning, form running drills, running warm ups and activity time.
	Student inconsistently shows respect to self and others.
	Student inconsistently comes prepared to class.
	Student inconsistently needs reminders to be in squad spot.
	Student inconsistently needs reminders to stay on task.
	Student inconsistently needs reminders to follows directions.
Student inconsistently needs reminders to follow safety rules.

CONDUCT

1	Student consistently respects classroom procedures.
	Student consistently is engaged in instruction
	Student consistently is a positive role model for peers.
	Student consistently displays positive sportsmanship
2	Student respects classroom procedures
	Student is engaged in instruction.
	Student needs reminders of good sportsmanship and leadership
3	Student inconsistently respects classroom procedures
	Student inconsistently is engaged in instruction.
	Student needs reminders of good sportsmanship
	Students attitude interferes with learning.