DID YOU KNOW?

Foster one-on-one relationships safely
One-on-one time with trusted adults is healthy for the children and helps them to build self-esteem and long-term relationships. You can protect your child while still ensuring they have time and opportunity to build these relationships. You can drop in unexpectedly when you child is with another adult, even if that person is a trusted family member. Insist on observable outings, in public places. Talk with your child after an outing, noting his mood or her ability to confidently tell you what happened. For more information, visit <https://www.d21.org/education/5-steps/step-2>.
