God Is In Control

When leaders of the Catholic Charismatic Renewal heard Franciscan Father Michael Scanlan, the president of Franciscan University of Steubenville, deliver a prophecy in 1976 about a time of lawlessness and shuttered churches, no one imagined such a scenario occurring soon — or ever.

"We didn't dismiss it, but we kind of put it to the side," Ralph Martin said. Now, 44 years later, the message has struck home, as the seemingly extreme events it cited are happening.

Since discovering the prophecy while doing research for a new book, Martin, the president of Renewal Ministries, has sought to circulate the message and provide commentary on it — not just because it refers to current developments, but because it offers direction about how to respond to such a time as this.

"There's some real guidance in it and some real hope in it, because, obviously, the Lord knew this was going to happen 44 years ago and he wanted to prepare us." Although the prophecy speaks forebodingly of lawlessness and churches with bars across the doors, it does so in the context of asking listeners if they are willing to depend on God alone.

"I do feel like people are troubled, anxious and confused," Martin said. "People feel rud-derless. They don't know what's going to happen to their country. ... I think people are really worried about what's happening in America: the polarization, hatred, irrationality, hostility to Christ and the Church from certain sectors. We are in a horrible spiritual battle manifesting itself in very visible ways."

Martin said he believes the best response to what is happening is to seek the Lord while he may still be found. "I think we need to get serious about God and start paying attention to him in a more fervent, focused way than many of us have been. We need to get very serious about our faith."

Martin said depending on God's protection does not mean hunkering down and letting the darkness descend.

"I think we should fight against the darkness. Be a light; be salt; be a blessing; be mercy to people. Participate in our political system by voting for things that represent the values of the Kingdom. Work to keep schools and parishes going. We're not supposed to give up, but the Lord is saying something bigger is happening. We need to take note of it. We need to make sure that if the schools close, the parish closes, it's not the end of the world because God is in control and has a plan and a purpose for us. If buildings close, other things are going to open up."

In spite of the sober tone of the message, Martin said he believes that these times will lead to tremendous love and hope. The last sentence of the prophecy states, "When you see it all shut down, when you see everything removed which has been taken for granted and when you are prepared to live without these things, then you will know what I am making ready."

Martin said this indicates that what is happening is not caused by out-of-control forces. "God is deciding to permit these things to happen. He's not worried. He has a plan for good."

Martin said he would urge people to heed the message by deepening their relationship with the Lord, putting their priorities in the right place and developing relationships with brothers and sisters in Christ. Some of the things in the prophecy are happening now and others may not happen tomorrow. "But if there isn't a sufficient turning to God, he's not going to leave us in our lukewarm-ness, infidelity and sin. He will find other avenues." ## The Pastor's Faithbook Post!

Fr. Michael Scanlan's 1976 Prophecy

"Son of man, do you see that city going bankrupt? Are you willing to see all your cities going bankrupt? Are you willing to see the bankruptcy of the whole economic system you rely on now so that all money is worthless and cannot support you?"

Son of man, do you see the crime and lawlessness in your city streets, and towns, and institutions? Are you willing to see no law, no order, no protection for you except that which I myself will give you?

Son of man, do you see the country which you love and which you are now celebrating—a country's history that you look back on with nostalgia? Are you willing to see no country—no country to call your own except those I give you as my body? Will you let me bring you life in my body and only there?

Son of man, do you see those churches which you can go to so easily now? Are you ready to see them with bars across their doors, with doors nailed shut? Are you ready to base your life only on me and not on any particular structure? Are you ready to depend only on me and not on all the institutions of schools and parishes that you are working so hard to foster?

Son of man, I call you to be ready for that. That is what I am telling you about. The structures are falling and changing—it is not for you to know the details now—but do not rely on them as you have been. I want you to make a deeper commitment to one another. I want you to trust one another, to build an interdependence that is based on my Spirit. It is an interdependence that is no luxury. It is an absolute necessity for those who will base their lives on me and not the structures from a pagan world. I have spoken and it will take place. My word will go forth to my people. They may hear and they may not—and I will respond accordingly—but this is my word.

Look about you, son of man. When you see it all shut down, when you see everything removed which has been taken for granted, and when you are prepared to live without these things, then you will know what I am making ready."
