We are delighted to have you with us.

repeated requests by Anglicans seeking to become Catholic.
Ordinariate parishes are fully Catholic while retaining elements of their Anglican heritage and traditions, including liturgical traditions.

If you are visiting,
please introduce yourself
to the priest and join us for refreshments
after the Mass
in the school auditorium.

MITE BOX COLLECTION

Today is the second Sunday of the month, when we collect the spare change you are gathering for the Building Fund.

Don't have a mite box? You can get one from the ushers after mass and start collecting.

And you can always just bring up whatever spare change you have in your pocket. No contribution is too small to matter.

Help us Build Our Future by participating in the Mite Box Collection.

OCTOBER CORPORAL WORK OF MERCY: THE LITTLE SISTERS OF THE POOR

The Little Sisters of the Poor are a congregation of Roman Catholic women religious founded in 1839 by Saint Jeanne Jugan. They serve the elderly poor in over 30 countries by offering the neediest elderly of every race and religion a home where they will be welcomed as Christ, cared for as family, and accompanied with dignity until God calls them to Himself. They are sustained entirely by 'begging' and trusting the Lord to open hearts to be generous.

This month we are begging you on the behalf of the Jeanne Jugan Residence and St. Joseph's Villa, located on Harewood Road here in DC. Please drop a check made out to the Little Sisters of the Poor in the plate this month [or pop some cash in an envelope and mark it for them.]. You could also mail it directly to them: Little Sisters of the Poor/Jeanne Jugan Residence/4200 Harewood Road, NE/ Washington, DC 20017-1554

For more information about the Little Sisters, see the parish newsletter.

KNOW YOUR FAITH

POPE JOHN XXIII (25 November 1881 – 3 June 1963), born Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli, was the fourth of fourteen children born to a family of sharecroppers from Lombardy. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1904 and served in a number of posts, including papal nuncio in France. In 1953, Pope Pius XII made Roncalli a cardinal and the Patriarch of Venice.

Roncalli was elected pope on 28 October 1958 at age 76 after 11 ballots. His selection was unexpected, and Roncalli himself had come to Rome with a return train ticket to Venice. Pope John XXIII surprised those who expected him to be a caretaker pope by calling the historic Second Vatican Council (1962–1965), the first session opening on 11 October 1962.

Pope John XXIII did not live to see the Vatican Council to completion. He died of stomach cancer on 3 June 1963, two months after the completion of his final and famed encyclical, Pacem in terris. His cause for canonization was opened on 18 November 1965 by his successor, Pope Paul VI. He was canonised alongside Pope Saint John Paul II on 27 April 2014.

The Church celebrates his feast day not on the date of his death, as is usual, nor that of his birth, nor even on the day of his papal coronation (as is the case with several canonised popes, such as John Paul II) but on 11 October – the day of the first session of the Second Vatican Council.

Hymnal #713 GLORIA [Healey Willan]

Missal p.2 COLLECT

Lord, we pray thee that thy grace may always precede and follow us: and make us continually to be given to all good works; through Jesus Christ thy Son our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with thee, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, ever one God, world without end Amen.

sit FIRST READING Isaiah 5: 1-7

Let me sing for my beloved a love song concerning his vineyard: My beloved had a vineyard on a very fertile hill. He dug it and cleared it of stones, and planted it with choice vines; he built a watchtower in the midst of it, and hewed out a wine vat in it; and he looked for it to yield grapes, but it yielded wild grapes. And now, O inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah, judge, I pray you, between me and my vineyard. What more was there to do for my vineyard, that I have not done in it? When I looked for it to yield grapes, why did it yield wild grapes? And now I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard. I will remove its hedge, and it shall be devoured; I will break down its wall, and it shall be trampled down. I will make it a waste; it shall not be pruned or hoed, and briars and thorns shall grow up; I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it. For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah are his pleasant planting; and he looked for justice, but behold, bloodshed; for righteousness, but behold, a cry!

all APPOINTED PSALM Psalm 80: 8-9, 12-15, 18-19 Qui regis Israel.

Thou hast brought a | vine • out of | Egypt; * thou hast cast | out the | heathen, and | planted it.

Thou | madest | room for it; * and when it had taken | root, it | filled the | land.

Why hast thou then broken | down her | hedge, * that all they that go | by pluck | off her | grapes?

The wild boar out of the wood doth | root it | up, * and the wild | beasts • of the | field de- | vour it.

Turn thee again, thou God of hosts, look | down from | heaven, * be- | hold, and | visit this | vine;

And the place of the vineyard that thy right | hand hath | planted, * and the branch that thou | madest so | strong for • thy- | self.

And so will not we go | back from | thee: * O let us live, and we shall | call up- | on thy | Name.

Turn us again, O Lord | God of | hosts; * show the light of thy | countenance, • and | we shall • be | whole.

SECOND READING Philippians 4: 6-9

Brethren: Have no anxiety about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. And the peace of God, which passes all understanding, will keep your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus. Finally, brethren, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is gracious, if there is any excellence, if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things. What you have learned and received and heard and seen in me, do; and the God of peace will be with you.

cantor ALLELUIA Domine, exaudi [Psalm 102: 1] Alleluia, alleluia. Hear my prayer, O Lord: and let my cry come unto thee. Alleluia.

stand GOSPEL Matthew 21: 33-43
At that time: Jesus said to the chief priests and elders of the people, "Hear another parable. There was a householder who planted a vineyard, and set a hedge around it, and dug a wine press in it, and built a tower, and let it out to tenants, and went into another country. When the season of fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the tenants, to get his fruit; and the tenants took his servants and beat one, killed another, and stoned another. Again he sent other servants, more than the first; and they did the same to them. Afterward he sent his son to them, saying, 'They will respect my son.' But when the tenants saw the son, they said to themselves, 'This is the heir; come, let us kill him and have his inheritance.' And they took him and cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. When therefore the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those tenants?" They said to him, "He will put those wretches to a miserable death, and let out the vineyard to other tenants who will give him the fruits in their seasons." Jesus said to them, "Have you never read in the scriptures: 'The very stone which the builders rejected has become the head of the corner; this was the Lord's doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes'? Therefore I tell you, the kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to a nation producing the fruits of it."

PARISH NOVENA : OCTOBER 9TH TO 18TH

Tomorrow is the first day of our annual parish Novena of Thanksgiving. This year we will close it on Sunday, October 22nd, when we will celebrate the Feast of St. Luke, which will be a solemnity as it is our patronal feastday. Please join in this celebration by praying our novena prayer every day.

Most gracious Lord, whose mercy is over all thy works; We praise thy holy Name that thou hast been pleased to conduct thy servants in safety, through the perils of life's journey, to the haven of thy Holy Catholic Church, the blessed company of all faithful people.

We now desire to return our thanks unto thee for thy holy Church, begging thee to confirm and strengthen it in purity of faith, in holiness of life, and in perfectness of love, and to restore to it the witness of visible unity; and more especially for the gift of the Ordinariate, planted by God as an instrument of unity, whereof we are members; that in all things it may work according to God's will, serve him faithfully, and worship him acceptably.

And may we remain duly sensible of thy merciful providence towards us, and ever express this thankfulness by a holy trust in thee, and obedience to thy laws; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Our Lady of Walsingham, pray for us.

EDWARD THE CONFESSOR (c. 1003 – 5 January 1066) was the penultimate Saxon king to rule in England. He is called "Edward the Confessor" to distinguish him from another King of England, Edward the Martyr (c962-979), who was assassinated and who came to be regarded, on doubtful grounds, as a martyr for the faith.

Edward was the son of King Ethelred the Unready. [This does not mean that he was unprepared, but rather that he was stubborn and willful, and would not accept "rede," meaning advice or counsel.] Ethelred was followed by several Danish kings of England, during whose rule young Edward and his mother took refuge in Normandy. But the last Danish king named Edward as his successor, and he was crowned in 1042. He was diligent in public and private worship, generous to the poor, and accessible to subjects who sought redress of grievances.

In Christian biographies, the term "confessor" is often used to denote someone who has borne witness to the faith by his life, but who did not die as a martyr. Edward spent much of his money on the relief of the poor and the building of Westminster Abbey, which stands today (rebuilt in the thirteenth century) as one of the great churches of England, burial place of her kings and others deemed worthy of special honor.
