

Mrs. Austin's P5 Newsletter for week ending
February 26th, 2021

Reminders/News:

- Every Friday we will now have Show and Tell. Please help your child choose something to share that will fit in their backpack (no toy weapons).
- We have been able to spend recess time outside this week. Everyone in class is now able to completely dress and undress themselves and zip up their own coats- thank you to all of your hard work practicing at home. Remember if it is above 15 degrees we will also play outside in the morning so you can send your child to school in their snow clothes.

A look at some of this week's lessons:

- Continuing learning about upper and lower case S and the sound it makes (ask your child about Sammy Snake)
- Counting by 5's and 10's
- Working on using a number line
- Sight word "you"
- Learning about why snakes shed their skin
- Learning about why snow is white
