ENTHUSIASM AND GRAMMAR

There is a good reason that the writings of St. Paul don't show up as examples in grammar textbooks. Today's reading is a case in point. It begins with one of those long Pauline run on sentences that leave lectors gasping for breath. So what? Take a closer look at how Paul's fervor for his subject matter derails the grammar. There is something admirable about being so caught up in his convictions that the words cannot come fast enough to express them, much less in an orderly fashion. Scripture scholars usually take this grammatical ineptness as a sign of a passage's early importance in the Christian community, something they were so ardent about that their language never got refined.

What leaves us in this condition? Re-telling the plot line of an action movie or the play-by-play of a sporting event? When was the last time any of us was so excited by our faith in Christ that we were left grasping for words, stumbling over our own errors in speech? It may be bad grammar, but it is an excellent way to inspire others with the message of Christ!

FATHERHOOD

When a father gives to his son, both laugh;
when a son gives to his father, both cry.

—William Shakespeare

SAINT JOHN FISHER (1469-1535) AND

SAINT THOMAS MORE (1477-1535)

June 22

From Robert Bolt's classic A Man for All Seasons to Showtime's edgy The Tudors, Thomas More endears himself still: lawyer-statesman of impeccable integrity, remarried widower and affectionate father delighting in a lively household—four children, a pet monkey, even a paid jester! And challenges still: humanist-reformer, yet champion of Catholic faith and papal primacy. John Paul II named him Patron of Statesmen and Politicians, citing More's generous work, both as a lawyer and in government service, on behalf of the poorest and most marginalized people of his time, as well as his promotion of education for all sectors of society. More's decision for principle over politics, conscience over convenience prompted his final words: "I die the king's good servant, but God's first." Alone among England's bishops, John Fisher dared challenge Henry VIII's divorce and repudiation of the papacy. When the Pope named the imprisoned Fisher a cardinal, Henry thundered: "Don't bother sending Fisher's red hat here; I'll send Fisher's head to Rome!" Whose "good servants" are we first? Isn't a right conscience worth the pain of standing alone?

—Peter Scagnelli.

DID YOU KNOW?

Watch out for friend fatigue

After months of staying home, parents who are opting to engage in safe playdates should be aware of "friend fatigue." Especially in the summer months, children have time for longer playdates, and often choose to spend time with their best friends whenever they can. But these playdates can be too much of a good thing. Pay attention to cues from your child that he or she needs a break — excessive fighting, bad behaviors, short tempers. Use informed judgement to determine when it's best for children to take a play break for a few days or so. For more information, get a copy of the VIRTUS® article, "Summer friends are great and all, but..." at <https://lacatholics.org/did-you-know/>.

St Sebastian School

Dear St. Sebastian Parishioners,

We are happy to announce that today we officially begin the demolition of our Modular buildings, the first step in the Building Process granted to us by the wonderful and amazing Shea Family Charities! We are thrilled that this amazing group will be building us a new classroom building for the middle school and 4th/5th grade! Please join us in prayers of thanksgiving for their generosity!

If you know, are interested in enrolling please contact us at 805-525-1575

God bless and thank you for your continued support!

In Christ,
Grace Kelly
