De Emaús a Jerusalén

Para todo cristiano que quiera vivir seriamente su fe, Emaús ha sido en algún momento de su vida el destino de sus pasos.

¿Quién no ha sentido el fracaso en su vida? ¿Quién no ha tenido la tentación de dejarlo todo y de buscar otros caminos? Son muchas las razones que nos han podido llevar a querer abandonar Jerusalén. Pero, de algún modo en el camino de Emaús nos hemos encontrado con el Señor.

La historia de los discípulos que, desesperanzados dejan Jerusalén y se vuelven a sus casas es nuestra historia. Las veces que hemos experimentado el desamor, el egoísmo, incluso la traición, y totalmente abatidos hemos pensado que lo mejor era dejarlo todo. Nos hemos dicho: “¿Qué luchen los otros, yo ya he tenido bastante!” Pero en ese mismo camino del abandono, nos hemos encontrado con la fuerza que nos ha invitado a empezar de nuevo y creer que, con la ayuda del Señor, todo es posible.

El camino de Jerusalén a Emaús y de Emaús a Jerusalén es, pues, nuestro mismo camino. Pero hay algunos elementos en este relato que nos pueden ayudar a reconocer mejor a Jesús. Primero, hay que estar atentos a los caminantes desconocidos. En ellos, puede estar presente el Señor. Segundo, la Eucaristía es el momento privilegiado para reconocer al Señor y descubrir el sentido de nuestra vida como cristianos. Y, tercero, no hay que tener miedo en compartir con los demás nuestras experiencias. Quizá, en más de una ocasión, simplemente compartiendo nuestra experiencia y ayudando al que está cansado y a punto de abandonar, podemos ser el caminante desconocido que ilusione de nuevo el corazón. ¿No es eso ser misionero?

¡Let us continue to be praying for each other!

¡Sigamos orando el uno por el otro!

Today Gospel LUKE 24:13-35

That very day, the first day of the week, two of Jesus' disciples were going to a village seven miles from Jerusalem called Emmaus, and they were conversing about all the things that had occurred. And it happened that while they were conversing and debating, Jesus himself drew near and walked with them, but their eyes were prevented from recognizing him.

He asked them, “What are you discussing as you walk along?” They stopped, looking downcast. One of them, named Cleopas, said to him in reply, “Are you the only visitor to Jerusalem who does not know of the things that have taken place there in these days?” And he replied to them, “What sort of things?” They said to him, “The things that happened to Jesus the Nazarene, who was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people, how our chief priests and rulers both handed him over to a sentence of death and crucified him.

But we were hoping that he would be the one to redeem Israel; and besides all this, it is now the third day since this took place. Some women from our group, however, have astounded us: they were at the tomb early in the morning and did not find his body; they came back and reported that they had indeed seen a vision of angels who announced that he was alive. Then some of those with us went to the tomb and found things just as the women had described, but him they did not see.” And he said to them, “Oh, how foolish you are! How slow of heart to believe all that the prophets spoke! Was it not necessary that the Christ should suffer these things and enter into his glory?” Then beginning with Moses and all the prophets, he interpreted to them what referred to him in all the Scriptures. As they approached the village to which they were going, he gave the impression that he was going on farther. But they urged him, “Stay with us, for it is nearly evening and the day is almost over.” So, he went in to stay with them. And it happened that, while he was with them at table, he took bread, said the blessing, broke it, and gave it to them.

With that their eyes were opened, and they recognized him, but he vanished from their sight. Then they said to each other, “Were not our hearts burning within us while he spoke to us on the way and opened the Scriptures to us?” “So, they set out at once and returned to Jerusalem the eleven and those with them who were saying, “The Lord has truly been raised and has appeared to Simon! “Then the two recounted what had taken place on the way and how he was made known to them in the breaking of bread.
