GIFTS

In today's readings, we discover that material wealth alone does not keep us from discipleship. We will see that there are other gifts more important than material wealth, but even so, it is how we use our gifts that matters most.

Today's scriptures point to the value of the gifts of wisdom, trusting in God, and letting our actions reflect the love of God from within. It is not gold that causes us to fall, but rather the desire for gold above all other things. From the readings in Wisdom and Hebrews, we find the source of God's gifts in our lives. Wisdom is more valuable than worldly possessions. In Hebrews, we are challenged to look at our own values and admit honestly what controls our lives. Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.

NEW HORIZONS
CONFIRMATION: THE SACRAMENT OF THE HOLY SPIRIT
by: Fr. Mark Watson, Pastor

Last week I wrote my first article in a series about the seven sacraments. This article is about the meaning of the sacrament of Confirmation. I hope each of these articles will help you better understand the sacraments which are so central to our faith.

In the early church the only minister of baptism and Eucharist was the bishop. In these early centuries initiation into the Church took place through the reception of baptism and Eucharist. The rite of Confirmation did not yet exist.

Beginning in the third century in various eastern churches such as Jerusalem, Constantinople, and Alexandria, and in the western churches of Rome and Carthage there were various actions performed by the presiding bishop after baptism. Among these actions was anointing with perfumed oil. In the first centuries there was no consensus as to when the Holy Spirit was received in Baptism.

In the early 4th Century Christianity became the official religion of the Roman Empire. This growth in the number of those who desired to be baptized led the Church to empower priests to both baptize and celebrate Eucharist. The ministry of priests met this new need especially in rural areas of the Empire. In the 5th Century, Baptism was beginning to change from a sacrament for adults to a sacrament for infants. This further increased the need for priests to baptize. While priests were able to baptize the final anointing of the rite of baptism was reserved for the bishop. This final rite was first called consignation and was an anointing with chrism in the sign of the cross. This is the beginning of what has become the sacrament of Confirmation. In the west, the separated rite for the completion of Christian initiation was designated by a variety of terms: signing, consignation, anointing, perfection, consummation, and blessing. Usually, the rite itself was a consignation or anointing with chrism in the sign of the cross.

The name "confirmation" was first used by the French councils of Riez and Orange in 439 and 441, which gave priests permission to anoint the children they baptized with consecrated chrism, and instructed bishops to visit the rural areas of their dioceses regularly in order to confirm baptisms celebrated by priests.

Most parents did not take their children to the bishop to be confirmed. Bishop Faustus of Riez in 460 attempted to convince individuals to take their children to the bishop by giving a Pentecost sermon in which he said that Confirmation made those who received it more fully Christians. Around the year 600 for the most part Christian initiation was carried out by local priests who baptized, anointed, and gave communion to children each year during the Easter Vigil.

Between the 9th and 13th centuries episcopal confirmation was extended through most of the countries of Europe and became the accepted practice. In 1274 the Second Council of Lyons named Confirmation among the seven sacraments of the Catholic Church.

In the 13th Century Aquinas said the effect of Confirmation was a power of spiritual growth. Graces of confirmation were strength in spiritual combat and boldness in professing the faith.

Confirmation has had the same meaning from the 13th Century until the Second Vatican Council. The Second Vatican Council placed a new focus on the role of Confirmation in Christian initiation. Confirmation was now seen as the bridge between baptism and Eucharist.

In a series of audiences that the Pope gave on the sacraments he said about Confirmation that it brings an increase and deepening of baptismal grace. This deepening of baptismal grace includes the strength to spread and defend the faith. The Pope also spoke about how those who are confirmed received the gifts of the Holy Spirit. Finally, the Pope spoke about how Christ makes himself active in the lives of the confirmed. The Pope invited all of the confirmed to give thanks for this sacrament. May we follow the Pope's invitation.

FEAST OF FAITH

Agnus Dei

After the sign of peace, the priest breaks the host into pieces, and prepares the patens or plates of hosts for the assembly. In the early church, “the breaking of the bread” was the name given to the entire Eucharistic liturgy, so central was this action to the meaning of the Christian life. For just as the one bread is broken and given to many people, the many are made one in receiving it.

During this ritual action, we sing an ancient litany, calling on Jesus as the “Lamb of God”—the words used by John the Baptist when he pointed to Jesus walking beside the Jordan River (John 1:29, 36). In calling Jesus “the Lamb of God,” John was already pointing to the death that Jesus would die: in giving his life, Jesus would become the Paschal Lamb of the new covenant. During the Mass, when we call on the Lamb of God, we call to mind his self-sacrificing love, his blood poured out for us, and we ask this compassionate Lord for mercy and peace.

MEMORARE OF SAINT JOSEPH

REMEMBER, O most illustrious Patriarch St. Joseph, on the testimony of St. Teresa, thy devoted client, never has it been heard that anyone who invoked thy protection or sought thy mediation has not obtained relief. In this confidence I come before thee, my loving protector, chaste spouse of Mary, foster-father of the Saviour of men and dispenser of the treasures of His Sacred Heart. Despise not my earnest prayer, but graciously hear and obtain my petition . . .

(Here we mention request)

Let us pray.

O God, Who by Thine ineffable Providence didst vouchsafe to choose St. Joseph to be the spouse of Thy most holy Mother, grant, we beseech Thee, that he whom we venerate as our protector on earth may be our intercessor in Heaven, Who livest and reignest forever and ever. Amen.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL

The "Little Church with the Big Heart" always applies throughout the entire year

Oct. 10— Twenty-Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time:

In today's Gospel, Jesus says: "Go, sell what you have and give to the poor and you will have treasure in heaven, then, come follow me."

Have you considered answering the call to help serve the poor by joining the Society of St. Vincent de Paul?

Fall is in the air and it is lovely. In September we fed 53 households, which included 41 children, 66 adults, 10 senior citizens, and 6 homeless. The cost for food was $157.63 for 4,225 pounds of food. The Northwest La. Food Bank has had a wonderful supply of free food. Utility cost was $260 for 5 families. We will need coats soon. We are extremely low on children's coats. Any coat that is outgrown is welcome!

We badly need empty egg cartons. Our eggs come in cases; therefore, we need the cartons to fill.

Food for the month of October is soups.

SVDP THANKSGIVING FOOD BAGS

The Thanksgiving bags are being handed out beginning this weekend until Sunday, Nov. 14th. the final day to turn them back in. Our families would not be celebrating Thanksgiving this year if it weren't for your help. Thank you for returning your bag to the Narthex of the church. We now have time to get them ready for distribution.

GRIEF SUPPORT GROUP STARTING AT SACRED HEART

Our grief support group will meet on the 1st and 3rd Monday, of each month. Our next meeting is October 18, 2021 from 5:00 pm to 6 pm in the Rectory Living Room. There are those that may still be struggling from the loss of a loved one and need a little support through their rough times. There is no timeline on grief, so if your loss is old that does not matter. Please try and come to this first meeting to voice your needs so that the group leader can get an idea of everyone's needs. Your opinion is needed and you can bring a friend along if you wish. Thank you! Loreta Leavitt (Coordinator)
