Dear Parent:

As you enroll your child in St. John Neumann Catholic School, please be aware of the following legal considerations regarding Custody or Protection from Abuse Orders for your child:

- You expect us to enforce any court issued orders
- We want to enforce any court issued orders.
- If there is no court Custodial or PFA agreement on file with the school, we strive to honor the rights of all parties involved.

Therefore:

If there is a Custody Order or a Protection from Abuse Order concerning your child, you must provide a copy of that order at the time of enrollment. If any changes occur in a Custody Order or PFA Order issued by a court while your child is enrolled in our school, you are responsible to provide a copy of the new order to principal. We cannot enforce a new order without a copy in our possession.

Only a parent or legal guardian of your child may make educational decisions for your child, or receive educational records of that child. The school will not permit other individuals to make educational decisions or receive educational records, unless permitted by an order of the court.

If you have any questions about these requirements, please do not hesitate to call the school.

Thank you,

Mrs. Kyla Hockley
Principal
