“He shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.” (Isaiah 22:21)

Master of the palace: it was a sought-after title, and Shebna knew it. That title gave him far-reaching authority over the king’s household and possessions. But he abused that power by taking advantage of perks like the royal chariots and even making a beautiful carved tomb for himself (Isaiah 22:16, 18). That’s why God unseated Shebna and established Eliakim in his place. He wanted someone who would exercise that authority with fatherly concern and compassion, not self-promotion, domination, or greed. In other words, the master of the palace should imitate the way God uses his authority: to serve his people.

These words point to something important about God’s desires for his kingdom. He wants a kingdom where leaders don’t lord their authority over the people in their care. He wants them to show compassion and concern for their people (Matthew 20:25-26).

Jesus gave that type of authority to Peter. Yes, Peter received the “keys to the kingdom” and the power to bind and to loose (Matthew 16:19). But first and foremost, he was to be the rock, the solid foundation upon which the Church would be built. He would not be raised up above all his brothers and sisters; he would be beneath them to support them.

That’s the type of leadership God wants parents or anyone in authority to exercise. Godly leaders don’t put themselves first. They are not greedy for honor or power. His kingdom is a place where, instead of setting themselves up against one another, his people serve one another with love, respect, and honor.

Shebna’s story is a lesson to us, especially those times when we are tempted to take advantage of our position. Peter is a role model too when we are tempted to think leadership equates to tyranny. Let’s take their examples and learn how to be good leaders in our families, our workplaces, and our Church.

WHAT IS STEWARDSHIP?

A steward is one who the master sets over his property to manage, provide for, care for, and contribute to all that he/she has been given responsibility over. In the beginning, God gave mankind dominion over all that He had created. God entrusted us, his stewards, to care for, cultivate and make His creation fruitful. It is God's creation and it is our responsibility to look after it, overseeing and safeguarding material and human resources using them responsibly and profitably.

“Thank you” to all who continue to support our parish in the face of this pandemic. You may mail or bring your contributions to the Administration Office. If you are presently attending Mass, there is a box available in the church to place your offering. This thoughtful consideration on your part is greatly appreciated, as it helps us to maintain our budget during this trying time. May God bless you for being a faithful steward!

Hurricane Season Prayer

Loving God, maker of heaven and earth, protect us in your love and mercy. Send the Spirit of Jesus to be with us, to still our fears and give us confidence. In the stormy waters, Jesus reassured His disciples by His presence, calmed the storm, and strengthened their faith. Guard us from harm during this storm and renew our faith to serve You faithfully. Give us the courage to face all difficulties and the wisdom to see the ways Your Spirit binds us together in mutual assistance. Amen!

Our Lady of Prompt Succor, pray for us!
