Eleventh Sunday in Ordinary Time

Volume 46 – Number 24

“We must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ.” (2 Corinthians 5:10)

The thought of appearing before the judgment seat of Christ at the end of our lives is, at best, unsettling. That’s because we will receive recompense for what we have done, “whether good or evil” (2 Corinthians 5:10). We know the many times we have fallen short. So how can we have any hope that Jesus will welcome us into his heavenly kingdom?

First, we can remember that Jesus himself will be our judge. On the cross, he promised the criminal beside him, “Today you will be with me in Paradise” (Luke 23:43). He refused to condemn the woman caught in adultery (John 8:10-11). He welcomed tax collectors into his kingdom, including Matthew, who became one of the Twelve and a saint (Matthew 9:9-13). These Gospel stories give us reason to believe that he will treat us with mercy as well.

Second, while we may find it painful to remember some of our past sins and misdeeds, Jesus views our lives very differently. He won’t see only our sins; he’ll also see our good deeds—even the ones we weren’t aware of. You may be surprised by the effects that your love has had on the people around you!

Finally, while we’re still here on earth, we shouldn’t burden ourselves worrying about whether we have done enough good works to earn a spot in heaven. Jesus has already saved us through his “one righteous act”—the shedding of his blood on the cross (Romans 5:18). Our good works are the way in which we respond to the love that God has already shown us.

At Mass today, place any fears you might have about Jesus’ judgment into his loving, merciful hands. Remember that each day is a fresh start to “aspire to please” him in all things (2 Corinthians 5:9). Jesus is a judge, yes, but the most kind and merciful judge you will ever encounter!

“Jesus, I thank you for the mercy you show me each day.”

BIBLE VERSE OF THIS WEEK:

"To what shall we compare the kingdom of God, or what parable can we use for it? It is like a mustard seed that, when it is sown in the ground, is the smallest of all the seeds on the earth. But once it is sown, it springs up and becomes the largest of plants and puts forth large branches, so that the birds of the sky can dwell in its shade."

(Mark 4:31-32)

HURRICANE SEASON PRAYER

Lord, in your wisdom and your grace please let the oceans rest
Leave not one single soul displaced by the end of this test
Please keep the Gulf Coast high and dry and spare the others, too
So all may bask beneath a sky of brilliant, crystal blue.

Lord, let the winds be calm and light with no oppressive force
Devoid this world the saddened plight of nature's brutal course
Please guide the seas by your own hand should trouble start to brew
And lead each storm away from land 'til this season is through.

Lord, in your mercy and your way please bless us in this time
With strength to face each coming day should there be hills to climb
Please keep the souls of all mankind held safely in your care
So no one shall be left behind – this is my humble prayer.
