Sunday's Reflections
 1 Corinthians 11:23-26

THE FIRST ACCOUNT OF THE LAST SUPPER

The earliest recorded description of the Eucharist comes from Paul's First Letter to the Corinthians. It is even older than the gospels. Before the evangelists wrote about the Last Supper, Paul had already sent a letter to the church in Corinth, describing what had happened.

Paul says his version is already part of a tradition. "I received from the Lord what I also handed on to you." Namely, that Jesus took bread and wine on the night before he died. He gave thanks, broke the bread, and said, "This is my body that is for you. Do this in remembrance of me." Do this, Paul reports. Taking the cup, Jesus pronounced it as the cup of "the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me." Often, Paul reports. Do this often.

"For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the death of the Lord until he comes," Paul says.

We gather for Eucharist often. We still carry out one of the oldest and certainly the richest rituals in the Christian tradition. And whenever we eat and drink the body and blood of Christ, we proclaim the death of the Lord until he comes.

It is a privilege to share this meal. We have inherited it from a long tradition. And with it inherited a responsibility—to proclaim the death of the Lord until he comes. Often.
