Reflexiones del domingo
Apocalipsis 21:1-5a
REHABILITACIÓN DE EL CIELO

Muchas ciudades han tenido que construir de nuevo debido a las tragedias que les ocurrieron. Inundaciones, terremotos, tornados y huracanes han borrado siglos de civilización. En tiempos de guerra, los agresores han hecho lo mismo. Los nuevos edificios a veces ocultan las dificultades del pasado, la necesidad que obligó a la gente a construir nuevamente.

Muchas personas han sufrido personalmente un trauma que los obligó a comenzar de nuevo. Han tenido que volver a aprender a caminar, usar sus manos, hablar o pensar. Ya sea que hayan sufrido daños físicos en sus cuerpos o daños emocionales en sus mentes, tocaron fondo y comenzaron de nuevo.

Cerca del final del Libro de Apocalipsis, Juan visualiza una Jerusalén completamente nueva. Este desciende del cielo, y se convierte en la morada de Dios. El que estaba sentado en el trono dijo: "He aquí, hago nuevas todas las cosas". Pero las cosas nuevas a menudo tienen un precio. Puede que no queramos pagar, pero a menudo tenemos que.

Comenzar de nuevo es un desafío que nadie quiere enfrentar. Ya sea que su disco duro se caiga o que se inunden sus sótanos, nadie quiere volver a empezar.

Pero cuando lo hacemos, pueden pasar cosas buenas. Ordenamos lo que es realmente importante. Aprendemos sobre nuestra capacidad para tiempos de angustia. Y revitalizamos nuestra creencia en el que nos trae de la muerte a la vida, el que proclama: "He aquí, hago nuevas todas las cosas".

SANCTUARY CANDLE

Sunday's Reflections
Revelation 21:1-5a
REHAB HEAVEN

Many cities have had to build anew because of tragedies that befell them. Floods, earthquakes, tornadoes, and hurricanes have wiped away centuries of civilization. In times of war, aggressors have done the same thing. New buildings sometimes mask the difficulties of the past, the need that forced a people to build again.

Many individuals have personally endured trauma that forced them to start again. They have had to relearn how to walk, use their hands, speak, or think. Whether they endured physical damage to their bodies or emotional damage to their minds, they touched bottom and started all over again.

Near the end of the Book of Revelation, John envisions an entirely new Jerusalem. This one comes down out of heaven, and it becomes the dwelling place of God. The One who sat on the throne said, "Behold, I make all things new." But new things often come at a price. We may not want to pay, but often we have to.

Starting over again is a challenge no one wants to face. Whether your hard drive crashes or your basement floods, no one wants to have to start over.

But when we do, good things can happen. We sort out what is really important. We learn about our capacity for times of distress. And we reinvigorate our belief in the One who brings us from death to life, the One who proclaims, "Behold, I make all things new."
