My Catholic Faith Delivered's on-line courses meet today's students where they learn. Today's generation thinks and processes information differently than their parents' generation. They have zero tolerance for delays, need information at their fingertips and respond best to interactive learning. Online, interactive learning yields a higher rate of retention.

Today's students have never known life without the computer: it is an assumed part of life. (In fact, studies show they prefer the computer over TV.) Staying connected is important to this generation of Digital Natives. My Catholic Faith Delivered's engaging, on-line courses is the choice for today's learner.
