The Bible is a reference book into life's journey. For many, it's our parents, grandparents, godparents or guardians who mold and form us to be Catholics from our birth until we receive confirmation. We become Catholics not by our choice but under the very watchful eyes of our parents. Dare we disobey? After confirmation, it's a go-between yes or no to continue our faith journey. Elijah when challenged puts it quite aptly in this striking verse (1K18:21) "how long do you mean to hobble first on one leg, then the other"? Decisions are hard to make young and old as this requires changes to our lifestyle and the choices will have a bearing on our discipleship!

As we move along in life, there are many outlets where our inner disposition can take us. Opportunities knock to test the water and dare to be different. Those who contemplate change will take risks thrilled at a better tomorrow and living life to glorify, saying, I made it on my own! Yet, we know there is a beginning and an end to all things. When this happens and our soul is not at peace, to whom shall we go? Like Peter, we say.... Lord, you have the words of eternal life! (Jn6:68) and like St Augustine, we say, "late have I loved you"!
