We pray for the Church, God’s miracle of mercy: that she may be the faithful sacrament of mercy to all peoples of the world. We pray to the Lord.

We pray for our country: that we, as citizens of a free land, may take seriously our duty to speak out for our moral principles, doing our part to preserve the order that supports the gift of peace. We pray to the Lord.

We pray for all who are working to defeat the coronavirus: that God will give strength to all healthcare workers, insight to those researching treatments and cures, and patience to all who face daily challenges because of the disease. We pray to the Lord.

We pray for refugees and immigrants, particularly those fleeing violence: that God will ease their suffering, guide them to safety, and stir the hearts of many to assist them. We pray to the Lord.
We pray for our Jewish brothers and sisters, whom God called first as his chosen people: that they may experience his compassion and mercy more fully. We pray to the Lord.

We pray for all who have helped to strengthen our faith—for parents, teachers, and those who give witness by the fidelity of their life: that they may continue to be examples of Christian discipleship to all who encounter them. We pray to the Lord.

We pray for those gathered in faith this day: that we may call out in faith, with sincerity and conviction, to God who saves and delivers us from all our suffering and need. We pray to the Lord.

We pray for the faithful departed: that they will rejoice in the kingdom of heaven…and for
