REFLECTION FOR TODAY

Today’s second reading warns that a heart consumed with avarice and envy leads to jealousy, strife, conflicts and disputes. A giving heart, in contrast, can sing instead with the Psalmist, “Freely will I offer sacrifice; I will praise your name, O Lord, for its goodness.”

Little Rock Bible Study

“James, Peter, and Jude: The Catholic Letters”
The Little Rock Scripture Study has been a part of the St. Joseph’s Adult Enrichment program for several years. The selected study for this Fall covers four New Testament letters traditionally known as the Catholic Letters because each is written to strengthen Christian communities scattered across a wide region of the Roman Empire rather than a specific Christian community. Participants will discover that they contain profound differences as well as intriguing similarities. James is a work of wisdom literature, expounding on the themes of faith and good works, true wisdom, and the need for the rich to care for the poor. First Peter resembles a sermon on baptism. It is filled with moral exhortations about living out one’s baptismal promises in a properly upright, faith-filled manner, especially in the face of suffering and persecution. Second Peter contains strong warnings and exhortations to avoid false teachings to maintain proper ethical conduct while awaiting the second coming of Jesus Christ. It shares much of its content with Jude, because of which, Jude is studied in conjunction with Second Peter. This study has 7 sessions, incorporating an introductory session and 6 lessons, beginning on Thursday October 4th in the O’Connell Room at 7:30 pm – 9:00 pm. Session dates are Oct. 4, 11, 18, 25, Nov. 1, 8, & 15. The registration fee of $20 covers the cost of the study guide and CD wrap-up lecture.

Please register at the Parish Center.

PUTTING THE PIECES TOGETHER

Interesting things happen when one is on vacation and torrential rains limit activities. Though I am in a family which is quite fond of and astute in the province of jigsaw puzzles, my impatience, lack of dexterity, and my general disinterest in such a pursuit made me very reluctant to participate when the rains were at their heaviest. Being a team player at heart, however, I found myself at the table in the recreation room sorting these unusually shaped pieces by color. At least, I thought, I could do that.

Soon the 500-piece picture of a shoreline at dusk began to take shape. The others obviously knew what they were doing as pieces start to fit together. There was an adage within the puzzle, so I concentrated on getting the words to fit, since, conceptionally, this would be the least challenging for me. With roughly a quarter of the puzzle completed, the group called it a day…all except me. I would not leave until I had all the words together. The weather was great the next day, so family members found different outdoor activities to pursue. Not me. Suddenly I found a new talent (though a very small one) to develop.

How often do we find ourselves in situations that call on us to do something in which we have no interest? Such Grace-filled moments are God’s way of inviting us to cultivate a capacity within us. The more skills we have, the more we will be able to help ourselves and to help others. We might not see an immediate connection immediately, but we should know God will ask us to use all our skills at some point in our lives.

Let’s be ready.

Reflections

BE SERVANTS TO ONE ANOTHER

When they got back home to Capernaum, Jesus began to ask them what they had been discussing along the way. At this point, an awkward silence fell on the group. No one wanted to answer. They were embarrassed, because they had been arguing about who was the most important. Isn’t that incredible? During the time when Jesus was preparing himself and trying to prepare them for his death on the cross, they were arguing over the top job in the kingdom. This is a clear example of competitive instincts gone wrong.

You recall how Jesus responded. He might have gotten angry, but he did not. Instead, he sat down, gathered them all around him and taught them a lesson on Christian competition. He said, “If anyone wishes to rank first, he must remain the last of all and the servant of all.” Then he pulled a little boy over to himself, put his arms around him and said: “Whoever welcomes a child such as this, welcomes me. And whoever welcomes me, welcomes him that sent me.”

What a wonderful lesson in humility. The way to God is through Christ, and the way to Christ is through a helpless child.

So the real field of rivalry for a Christian is not power, not prestige, not money, not fame. It is a competition of service. We are to strive for excellence in usefulness. And the competition is not so much with each other as it is with ourselves. We should not be content with mediocre Christianity. Every one of us should seek to become the best servant, the best helper of humanity, that we can possibly be.

Our role model, of course, is Christ. He is the Incarnation of God’s standard for ordinary people like you and me. His primary claim to greatness is usefulness. He was the willing servant of anyone who needed him. That kind of greatness is within reach of all of us. And over the long haul, It is the only kind that really matters.

Remember the homeless

Please remember the homeless clients who stop in for help at our Outreach Center. We are happy to provide them with small “emergency kits” of ready-to-eat food, that is, food that doesn’t need to be heated or refrigerated. Unfortunately, our stock is running low. Please help us by donating the following items:

We could also use:
Hygienic products for the homeless in travel size.
Adult Backpacks (New or used in good condition)

Toothbrushes
Soap
Shampoo
Toothpaste

Women’s hygiene products
Razors
Cleansing wipes
Deodorants

Outreach also needs:
We could always use Grocery/Store Gift Cards (ShopRite, Stop & Shop, Aldi, Kmart, Target, etc.)
Target and ShopRite gift cards are not only used to help families with food, but they are also used by our clients to pay for their medications in the Pharmaceutical Department.

Thank you in advance for your ongoing help.
Your support is truly appreciated.
