Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

I would like to begin a new series of reflections today. The topic for our reflection will be the Creed that we say at Mass every Sunday and solemnity. Different than a prayer, the creed is a statement of what we believe. In fact, the word “creed” comes from its first word in Latin, credo, which simply means “I believe.” However, like a prayer that we have said many times, the Creed can lose its meaning through repetition when we cease to reflect on the words contained within it.

This week, we will first reflect on the way in which the Creed came to exist, and what that teaches us about the importance of sacred tradition in our religion. The Creed, as we say it, was not finalized until 381 (this is not exactly true, as a particular addition was not solidified until over 600 years later, but we’ll save that for another weekend). It is the result of prayerful deliberation that took place at two separate ecumenical councils during that same century: the First Council of Nicaea, which took place in 325, and the First Council of Constantinople, which took place in 381. At these early councils, bishops from around the world gathered together to discuss particular questions that had arisen regarding the Christian faith. Until this point, there was not really any formalized doctrine of the Church, and a variety of beliefs had been taught as true in different regions of the world. The Roman emperor Constantine decided to call the bishops together so that a decision could be made as to what Christianity held to be true. At that first council in Nicaea, the bishops agreed upon and professed the first part of the Creed that we know. At the second council they expanded it to include the second half.

Let us appreciate what took place. The Scriptures were already written, and most places were using the same set of texts, but that doesn’t mean they were interpreting them the same way. Based upon the prayerful reflection that had been done through the three prior centuries, the bishops were able to discern what the Holy Spirit, who guides us to all truth, was teaching. In this way, the sacred traditions that were already established began to unpack the meaning of what God revealed. The presence of the Holy Spirit ensured that the development of these doctrines, which used words not found in the Bible, were rooted in, and affirmed by, the Scriptures. In the weeks to come we will try to understand more fully what we are truly stating in the Creed we profess each week.

In Christ,
fr. Jason

I would also like to bring to everyone’s attention a certain scam that you may have been warned about during Mass a few months ago. Throughout our diocese, parishioners are receiving text messages claiming to be from their pastors asking for money or gift cards. These requests are absolutely phony, and should you receive it you should not respond. If anything, you may bring it to my attention. I am aware of a disturbingly large number of our own parishioners who were contacted in this way by someone falsely claiming to be me. No priest of this diocese should ever be soliciting money for any cause without some sort of official approval of his superior. Please remain cautious and skeptical of any request that sounds out of sorts. If it comes digitally, always try and follow up in person if you are not sure. It is sad that certain scammers are relying on the good will of the faithful in order to trick them, but it is happening, and I want everyone to be aware so you can remain vigilant.
We continue to pray for the following military personnel and their families:

Reflection for Today

We continue to hear about Paul and Barnabas in the first reading this Sunday. As stewards of the faith, they traveled near and far to spread God’s Word, encountering both violent rejection and joyful acceptance of the message that they preached. However, we need not sail to Antioch or Pisidia to be evangelizers! Let us spread God’s Word today by using our gifts in service to the wider community, beginning with our own hometown.

A TABLE FOR FOUR...

Time for a feel-good story, don’t you think?

Eleanor is a Southern widow who lives by herself. Her family is scattered, so she has figured out a way to exist on her own terms. Friends told her of Brad’s Barbeque a few towns away which had the best fried chicken in the state. One early evening she decided to try such a meal.

The chicken lived up to the hype, and Eleanor was enjoying every bite to the point where she did not notice three young men who were seated a few tables away. They too were having an early evening dinner and enjoying the often animated conversation. One of the young men, Jamareo, noticed that Eleanor was by herself. Without saying anything to his friends, Jamareo got up, walked over to Eleanor’s table, and asked if he could join her. Though somewhat stunned, she smiled and said yes. Jamareo’s friends joined her as well, and by the end of the evening, they all agreed to do this again very soon.

When asked what prompted him to make the initial move, Jamareo offered, “I always wanted to change the world. But I am not rich, I am not famous, and I am not very smart. But we can show the world we can be kind, and maybe the world can be a better place.” Eleanor’s reaction? “I think it was a God thing...that God sent me there. It was an example about how people care about other people and how important it is.”

All good things we do come from the goodness God puts in our hearts. We should be thankful for these grace-filled opportunities to reflect the love God has for each one of us and look for such moments in the most unlikely places.

Queridos Hermanos y Hermanas en Cristo,

Hoy, empecemos una nueva serie para nuestra reflexión. Meditamos en el Credo que decimos cada misa dominical y las misas solemnes. El Credo es diferente que una oración porque en una oración hablamos con Dios o un santo. En el Credo, profesamos lo que creemos. Sin embargo, como una oración que dejemos muchas veces, podemos olvidar el significado de las palabras cuando lo repitamos sin reflexión.

Esta semana, consideramos la formación del Credo y porque la tradición sagrada es importante por la fe. El Credo, como lo profesamos, fue fijado hasta el año 381 (en realidad, una palabra fue añadida unos siglos después, pero voy a hablar de esto en otra semana). A través de orar y discutir los obispos del siglo IV formaron el Credo en los dos primeros Concilios Ecuménicos: el primero fue en 325 en Nicea, el segundo en 381 en Constantinopla. En aquellos concilios, los obispos del diferentes partes del mundo reunieron para discutir algunas preguntas de la fe. Hasta 325 la Iglesia no proclamó ninguna doctrina en manera oficial. Por lo tanto, en unas regiones los sacerdotes proclamaban como verdadera, enseñanzas diferentes. El Emperador Constantino congregó a los obispos para que decidan que cree la Cristiandad. Al primer concilio, los obispos profesaron la primera mitad del Credo. Y al segundo, otros obispos profesaron la segunda mitad.

Debemos agradecer aquello trabajo. Las escrituras eran escritos, y la mayoría de la Iglesia usaban la misma Biblia. Pero en algunos lugares interpretaban la Biblia diferente. En los concilios ecuménicos, los obispos, a través del guía del Espíritu Santo que nos guía a la verdad plena, aprendieron unas verdades de la naturaleza de las Personas de la Santísima Trinidad. Ellos vinieron como por tres siglos las tradiciones sagradas perseveraban la significación de las palabras en la Biblia. La presencia del Espíritu Santo les aseguró que las doctrinas habían desarrollado con razón. En las semanas que viene, vamos a comprender mejor lo que profesamos en el Credo.

En Cristo,
p. Jason

También, yo quiero aclararles que hay una estafa mala. Por todo nuestro diócesis, parroquianos recibian mensajes por celular que decían que el parroco (pastor) necesitaba fondos. A veces estas mensajeces decían que él necesitaba unas tarjetas de regalo. Las mensajes vinieron en nombre del pastor pero no de su propio número. Estas mensajes son totalmente falsas y no deben contestarlas. Si quiere, puede informarme. Muchas parroquianos de nuestra parroquia han recibido mensajes como estas de alguien que dice que es mi. Los sacerdotes de aquí nunca debimos pedir a la gente por fondos sin la autorización de un superior. Por favor, tengan cuidado. Si recibe una mensaje que parece extraño, probablemente es falsa. Si no sabe, pregunte a la persona cara a cara. Es triste que hay personas que usan la fe bien de los feligreses para engañarles, pero lo sucede. Sean vigilantes y cuidense.
