Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Last Monday, our parish had a small celebration to mark the return of many parish activities: the nursery school, faith formation sessions, choirs at the 9:30 am and 10:15 am Masses, etc. At the 9 am Mass, I shared some thoughts about two goals we, as a parish community, could keep in our minds through the following months. I would like to share those thoughts again here so that a wider group of parishioners may be actively seeking these same goals.

The celebration coincided with the celebration of the feast of St. Peter Claver. St. Peter lived during the late 1500's and first half of the 1600's. Originally from Spain, he was led by a missionary zeal to come to the Americas where he served as a priest in the area of modern day Colombia. He made it his special concern to look after those who were slaves in that area, and it is reported that he personally baptized around 300,000 people during his life. Among the many heroic and virtuous qualities in the life of this saint, two stand out as things we can try and imitate as a parish community.

First, we have the missionary zeal of St. Peter. He tirelessly worked to make the message of Christ known. He didn't shy away from proclaiming the Gospel to all, even when people were of a different race and culture spoke a different language, or had a different social status. He was convinced that the message of salvation was meant for everyone, and he strove to make that message known by all whom he met. Of course there were moments where this was done through the verbal preaching of the Good News. Other times, particularly when he would walk onto slave ships, it was known through the simple acts of charity displayed in a setting where little love had been shown before. God has planted our parish community here in the midst of our own area of Babylon to shine as a light for the people here. And whether they have heard the message of the Gospels proclaimed before or not, we all have a missionary role to play in our everyday lives. Giving witness to the reason for our hope, and undertaking all actions with grace and charity, we can become a living Gospel to be read by our contemporaries, just as St. Peter was for those whom he served. I would like for us to set as our first goal that we pray for this missionary zeal to fill our hearts and be displayed in word and deed right here in our own community of Babylon.

Second, we can look at the type of environment that St. Peter's work helped to create: it was one in which all people could seek and find the mercy of God. If we believe that God desires to call all to Himself, then we must equally realize that God desires His mercy to be experienced by all. Again, we can consider the moving image of St. Peter walking into the crowded, dirty, slave ships where people were scared, sick, and treated like objects, where people needed mercy. In his ministry to the slaves, St. Peter created an environment where that mercy became known and accepted. Souls found some level of consolation and healing because of that mercy. One stop away from a major train station, I can picture just how many people pass by our church building, each carrying their own crosses, each burdened with certain pains, each in need of God's mercy. How awesome it would be for each person to know that by entering our church they will encounter the mercy that they seek as they encounter Jesus Christ, Himself, waiting for them in the tabernacle. How important it then becomes for each one of us to be committed to making the environment of our church a place where that mercy is clearly proclaimed. And so let us set that as our second goal: to commit ourselves towards aiding how God's mercy is proclaimed to all who enter our church.

There are many other laudable goals we may adopt, just as there are many other virtues found in the life of St. Peter Claver, but I believe these two are accessible for every parishioner. Let us pray for God to set on fire the hearts of each parishioner to work towards these goals in the upcoming months.

In Christ,
fr. Jason

LIFE IS A PILGRIMAGE

When Henri Nouwen died, the world lost a friend. Nouwen, a Dutch theologian and Roman Catholic priest, wrote more than thirty books on spirituality. He taught theology at Notre Dame, Yale, and Harvard. In 1986, he left Harvard to work with L’Arche Daybreak Community, which operates homes for disabled adults. He talked about what a grace it was to move from an environment where he was judged by how smart he was to one where the issue was how loving he was.

Nouwen once criticized the contemporary understanding of education. “If teaching means providing a person with enough weapons to outdo other people, to make more money, to have a better career, and more esteem in the neighborhood, we had better start asking ourselves if there is any word from God that supports this approach.”

There is more. More to education, more to life, more to become. Henri Nouwen never settled between Egypt and the Promised Land, never stopped growing in his understanding of God or in his own personal life. It is revealed throughout the Bible and seen so clearly in Jesus Christ that we were made for a quality of life we have not yet reached. We were created to be pilgrim people pursuing a glorious promise, not pleasure people settling for the attractions of the moment as if that were all. Too many people’s lives are like an eagle at the zoo, meant to soar, to rule the expanse of the sky, yet trapped in a cage. Unlike the eagle, however, we usually become trapped in cages of our own making.

Do not settle. Press on. Human life is not a destination. The meaning and beauty of life is found in the journey itself. Many have found the words of Catherine of Siena to be true: “All the way to heaven is heaven; We arrive as soon as we depart.”

A Soggy Front Nine, A Sunny Ride Home

From time to time I get internet opportunities to play golf at discounted prices. These are very attractive offers, but there are certain conditions on these deals, so recently my playing partner and I had little choice but to tee it up when the skies became increasingly overcast and the forecast promised rain and thunderstorms on a course 30 miles east of our homes.

For once the prognosticators were correct, as we sloppily waded through puddles, donned and re-donned protective outerwear, and completed the front nine drenched to the bone. Perhaps fortunately, we heard claps of thunder and cautiously ended our day as we approached the 11th tee. Though completely soaked, we made our way for an adult beverage or two to commiserate what could have been had Mother Nature cooperated a bit more. We took minor consolation in the fact there were others who were similarly wet who had played the course as well.

My friend had to make a phone call, so I waited for him in the drizzly parking lot. Three guys were awaiting their fourth, so we began to chat. Soon I learned the foursome went to the North Shore High School, and, in fact, graduated the same year in which I graduated from St. Mary’s. I explained I knew many in their Class of 1964 because some of them had gone to St. Boniface for grammar school. “I went to St. Boniface,” the guy next to me said. “I’m Ray Dooley”. I recognized the name immediately, and we had a good-natured embrace. We continued our conversation for another half hour and all left smiling.

Not all our days start out great, but if we hang in there, God’s grace has a way of shining through, if we but look for it.

It did for me…and I hope it did for Ray Dooley.

Your financial support is very important to us, Your financial help enables us to assist our brothers & sisters in need (with rent, electricity, oil, gas). Additionally, it allows us to run the homeless program with an $8 Deli voucher, so they can have a hot meal.

We have faith in God that with your continued support of us financially, together we can all carry on with the mission that our Lord Jesus has entrusted us. Your generosity and compassion are heart-warming and very much appreciated.

Gift cards and Food cards:
We could always use Grocery/Store Gift Cards (Aldi, Shoprite, Stop & Shop, Target, etc). With these cards families can buy perishable items that we do not have in our pantry, like eggs, milk, and also pay for their medications in the pharmaceutical department.

In the same way, let your light shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your Father in heaven.
Matthew 5:16

Saint Vincent de Paul Society
The St. Vincent de Paul Society is beginning another new year this month. Our primary mission is to serve those in need in our community. Our active members choose to serve in various ways. Food drives are held at local supermarkets and volunteers pick up food from local food banks. On holidays (Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter) we assist in distributing food to families.
We welcome new members who would like to assist in this mission, no matter how much of your time you can give. Our meetings are held biweekly on Monday mornings. All are welcome to join us!
