Weekend of October 26/27 - Team B
Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

I would like to use this week's bulletin article to discuss one of the interesting practices in our Catholic tradition: ecclesiastical and papal mottoes. Did you know that Bishops and Popes select a motto to go at the bottom of their coat of arms? These mottoes can be taken from Sacred Scripture or the writings of the saints. Other times they express the prelate's core values or they serve as a type of vision or mission statement. Whatever their source may be, they can be a point for reflection for their flock. Are you familiar with the motto of our bishop? What about that of Pope Francis?

Bishop John Barres (the bishop of our diocese), chose as his motto, "Holiness and Mission." His different pastoral letters, homilies, and ministry have steadfastly called each of us to a greater holiness of life and to be missionaries of the new evangelization here on Long Island. Pope Francis chose the motto, "miserando atque eligendo." Translating the expression requires a little knowledge of the Latin language and of the stylistic device called "hendiadys." The phrase, itself, comes from a homily by St. Bede on the call of St. Matthew, where Bede writes that, "[Jesus] saw the tax collector and, because He saw him in a manner of mercifully choosing him, He said to him, 'follow me.'" On its own, the motto may be translated (very) loosely as, "by His merciful choice." Pope Francis has stated that the motto has a personal meaning for him, as he felt his own calling after going to confession on the feast of St. Matthew. However, by using it in this public way, he invites all of us to recognize that we have a vocation through God's merciful election.

Did you know about ecclesiastical and papal mottoes? What are some quotes that you live by? Perhaps you will now search through the Bible to find a phrase to live by or to keep as a daily goal. We can't go wrong by using the Word of God as a lamp to our feet and light to our path (Ps. 119:105).

In Christ,
fr. Jason

Please Help Outreach~“We are getting ready for Thanksgiving”

“Thanksgiving is a joyful celebration.”
We reflect with gratitude on the blessings we’ve received and give to those who are struggling. This year, we are once again calling upon you for donations of food and/or supermarket gift cards to help the families who use our pantry. We help, on the average, 20 families a day with food from our pantry and some financial assistance. We would not be able to care so generously for our clients without the help we receive from our parishioners here at St. Joseph.

We ask that all donations arrive at Outreach-Center by Monday, November 11th so that all families may receive food in time for the holiday.

Thank you!

Ministry of Consolation

The most profound, challenging, and enduring emotional experience we will ever encounter is for most of us, the death of a loved one. Death shakes our foundations. Everything changes. We become filled with deep emotional and perhaps spiritual pain. We experience the full impact of our loved one’s death. We begin to grieve. It is indeed a blessing to have a companion for the mourner.

Over twenty years ago, I saw an article in the Long Island Catholic that described a new ministry in the diocese, installed at St. Elizabeth Parish called the “Ministry of Consolation.” I brought the information to Fr. Ron Richardson then pastor of St. Joseph’s. He wholeheartedly approved and we were off and running.

So for these twenty years now, our parish has experienced the gift of the Ministry of Consolation, who over that time have assisted families at some four thousand funerals for loved ones. The ministry has been well received by those served, as evidenced by the abundance of thank you notes received.

As moderator of the ministry along with its leaders, I wish to offer our profound thanks to all who have served so faithfully over the years. Just so you know, it is a diverse group: there are folks who bake a cake and deliver it with a condolence card from the Parish; coordinators who set the team in motion upon notification of a funeral; printers who prepare Mass booklets from the computer; Eucharistic Ministers who assist at the Masses; greeters who welcome and help with seating and are there with boxes of tissues for those in need; companions who meet with the family to help with the planning of the funeral Mass, in choosing the readings and the hymns. They also gather personal history and background information for the celebrants of the wake and funeral Mass, to be used in the homily.

We at St. Joseph’s are very fortunate to have such a ministry as there are so very few parishes in our Diocese who still do. We too, however, are suffering the pains of attrition; some of our ministers have passed on, others moved and still others suffer from illness.

We would like you to search your spirit to see if the Ministry of Consolation would be a good fit for you. Please have no fear and rest assured that thorough training is provided.

In a faith community, no one should grieve alone. Was someone there to help when you lost a loved one? Do you wish someone had been? You can be that special person for someone else. I personally invite anyone interested to call our director, Barbara Schade at the parish office at 631-669-0068 Ext. 160.

May God continue to abundantly bless you.

Deacon John

Reflections

ALL IN THE FAMILY

There are times in our lives when we have absolutely nothing to do with some of the outcomes in which we find ourselves. Such was the case with Janet and Suzie and their non-existent relationships with their first cousins. Apparently, two sisters and a brother of the prior generation had some kind of tiff which produced severe results to the point where each stopped talking to one another. Of course, such behavior was expected by the subsequent offspring, so not only was there no communications among warring siblings, but cousins were expected to avoid cousins.

Knowing only what they had heard from their loving mother, Janet and Suzie dutifully followed her lead even though some of the cousins had remained within their hamlet and were often seen about town. Recently, when there was no one left from the first generation, Suzie said to Janet, “I think our cousin just walked into Stop & Shop. Let’s go introduce ourselves.” The sisters did, and Cousin Hal was instantly delighted. He, too, never understood the reason for the separation and told them they should meet the rest of the family. After all the Sheas in the Metropolitan area were reunited, a trip to the North Carolina was planned to meet relocated members of the original Long Island based family. This occurred in early September, and results were far better than family members expected.

We are called to love one another, but sometimes it is easier to be nice to a complete stranger than to someone in our family…or our workplace…or our parish. The Sheas eventually realized the importance of bonding because of the thread of family. Each of us has a variety of threads in our sewing basket, and we should make sure we maximize these threads by reaching out to those we truly should embrace.

Who knows? God’s Grace might lead us to our own Stop & Shop of reconciliation.
Queridos Hermanos y Hermanas en Cristo,

Esta semana, quiero escribir de una tradición Católica muy interesante: los lemas de los obispos y de los papas.

¿Usted sabe que los obispos y los papas tienen un lema que está debajo de su escudo de armas? Unos lemas son de las Sagradas Escrituras o las escrituras de los santos. Otras veces, son una expresión de los valores más central del prelado, o sirven como un estado de la misión. Cualquier sea la fuente del lema, los rebaños de los prelados pueden meditar de las palabras. ¿Sabe que es el lema de nuestro obispo? ¿Sabe que es el lema de Papa Francisco?

Obispo John Barres (el obispo de nuestro diócesis), eligió el lema, "Santidad y Misión." Sus cartas pastorales, sus homilías, y su ministerio constantemente nos llaman de vivir como santos y de ser misioneros de la nueva evangelización aquí en Long Island. Papa Francisco eligió el lema, "miserando atque eligendo." Si quiere traducirlo, tiene que saber un poco de Latín y la figura retórica que se llama "hendiadis." La frase es de una homilía de San Beda de la llamada de San Mateo, donde Beda escribió, "Jesús vio al publicano y, porque lo vio en manera de eligirlo con misericordia, Él lo dijo, 'sígueme.'" Solo, se puede traducir el lema (libremente), "por Su elección misericordiosa." Papa Francisco ha dicho que el lema tiene un significado personal, porque él oyó la llamada de Dios después de una confesión en la fiesta de San Mateo. Pero, a través de usarlo en una manera publica, él invita a todos de saber que tenemos una vocación por la elección misericordiosa de Dios.

¿Sabía de los lemas de los obispos y papas? ¿Cuáles son unas frases que puede usar como un lema? Tal vez, va a buscar en la Biblia por un lema de vivir o una frase que puede tener como una meta. Es bueno que lo hagamos porque la Palabra es una lampara para nuestros pies y una luz por nuestro camino (Salmo 119:105).

En Cristo.
