Eucharistic Minister Teams:
Weekend of January 18/19- Team B
Weekend of January 25/26- Team A
Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Last week we ended our celebration of the Christmas season and began a series of weeks that are referred to as "Ordinary Time." The term "ordinary" here does not mean "plain," but rather refers to the fact that we call each week by its ordinal number in the sequence of weeks (e.g. the first, second, third, etc., week of ordinary time). The readings and prayers of Mass focus on the ministry of Christ and our growth in holiness. This sequence gets broken up by Lent and Easter. After Pentecost, we return to Ordinary Time.

With the lack of thematic focus that exists in other seasons of the Church year, what might we look to do during Ordinary Time to help us move along our pilgrimage of faith? This is a perfect time to create, and live out, a spiritual routine. We should prayerfully reflect upon what religious practices we hold to daily and weekly. Do I take time to pray each day? Is the Lord calling me to spend more time in prayer? Is all of my prayer vocal prayer (prayers that we speak or recite), or do I make time for meditative prayer, also? Like exercise, the key here is balance and consistency. On the one hand, our life is not meant to look like that of a contemplative religious unless we are called to that special vocation. On the other hand, we don't want Sunday Mass to be the only time we pray during the week.

Here are some suggestions as to what a routine might include:

Daily:
- Some time spent in vocal prayer, trying to capture the four main themes of petition, contrition, thanksgiving, and adoration. The text of the Liturgy of the Hours can be found for free in various places on the Internet, and forms a great foundation for vocal prayer.
- Some time spent in meditation. The rosary, and other types of chaplets, serve as good first steps in this area, assuming we try to meditate upon the mysteries. Scripture reading and lectio divina (more on that in another bulletin article) are exemplary, too.
- Sacred reading of things like a biography of a saint, the writings of a saint, or the writings of a pope. There are also a lot of good resources that can be found on the Internet, but there's also a lot of junk there. Nothing can replace the saints. And if you're ever unsure, feel free to ask a priest's opinion.
- An examination of conscience and an act of contrition.

Weekly:
- One can consider attending Mass on an additional day besides Sunday.
- Some time spent in adoration of the Most Blessed Sacrament.
- Engage in a type of charitable work in service to our neighbors.
- Participate in a prayer or study group in a parish.

Periodically:
- A pilgrimage to a special shrine, or simply another Catholic church on Long Island.
- Go on a retreat. Please note that the Seminary of the Immaculate Conception in Huntington continues to make many offerings in this regard.
- Attend a special Catholic workshop or conference.
- Go to confession.

During Ordinary Time we seek to form good spiritual habits. And so I invite you, as I do this myself, to reflect upon these suggestions, and to prayerfully adopt a spiritual routine to stay focused during these weeks. If you already have one, then prayerfully consider if the Lord is asking you to amend it in some way. Our goal is not to get stuck along the journey, like a car that stalls out because it wasn't moving. Truthfully, if we are not going forward, then we are probably going backward. So let's make the commitment to move forward each day.

In Christ,
fr. Jason

Deacon’s Corner

Thank You

To the supportive community of St. Joseph’s, just to let you know Loretta and I left for Florida on January 12th and I will be retiring from active ministry as a Deacon. It has been a very happy and rewarding experience over some fifty years of ministry and service to the parish, forty of which were as a Deacon. I could not have done it without the support of my family and you, my parish family. Again, thank you for your love and support.

Deacon John

Reflections

A DIRECT DEPOSIT

During the recent holidays, my daughter and son-in-law hosted both an Ugly Sweater party for over 50 people (including Santa) and an intimate Christmas dinner for 21. In addition to good times being had by all, the aftermath of these celebrations included a rather extensive collection of cans, bottles, and plastics. Unlike a Baby Boomer as myself, most Millennials cannot be bothered to return such items. Staring at the bulging plastics bags, I decided the deposits I would collect would be added to the change bank I have long had for my grandchildren.

Thinking this would be an easy undertaking, I transferred one large bag from my car trunk to a grocery store cart and began feeding the machines. Immediately I learned, for reasons still unknown, not all the cans and bottles would be accepted, so I found another supermarket, but the results were the same. I then tried the plastic water bottles. At that point, a man approached me with three bags of plastic bottles. “You can have these,” he said to me. I quickly calculated what could be added to the change bank and thankfully accepted them. All was going well until I had one bottle left: the machine was filled. I took my ticket and insisted another customer who was patiently awaiting his turn take that last bottle. He reluctantly agreed. I proceeded to the Member Services, cashed in my windfall, and plotted which supermarket I would next try my luck. As I walked out the door, the man to whom I had given the bottle greeted me, smiled, and gave me a nickel.

I was not expecting to see the Face of God at a bottling redemption center, but there He was. It mattered little that the amounts of generosity differed; it was the good intentions of each unfamiliar person that counted. With God’s Grace and an open heart, we can see His Face more often. Perhaps something to consider in the new year.

Queridos Hermanos y Hermanas en Cristo,

El domingo pasado, terminamos nuestra celebración del tiempo de la Navidad. Ahora, estamos en el "Tiempo Ordinario." La palabra "ordinario" no significa "sencillo," sino indica que llamamos cada semana por un número ordinal en la secuencia de las semanas (por ejemplo: primera, segunda, tercera, etc.). Las lecturas y las oraciones de la Misa se enfocan en el ministerio de Cristo y nuestro crecimiento en la vida santa. Esta secuencia se interrumpe por la Cuaresma y el tiempo de la pascua. Después de Pentecostés, volvemos al Tiempo Ordinario.

Sin un tema para enfocarnos como otros tiempos del año litúrgico, ¿qué nos motiva en el Tiempo Ordinario a continuar nuestra peregrinación de fe? Este tiempo es perfecto para crear y vivir una rutina espiritual. Debemos considerar con devoción nuestras prácticas religiosas. ¿Oro cada día? ¿El Señor me llama pasar más tiempo en oración? ¿Siempre oro con palabras o medito también? Como ejercicio, lo que buscamos es un equilibrio y la constancia. Por un lado, nuestra vida no debe ser como un religioso con prácticas religiosas. ¿Oro cada día? ¿El Señor me llama pasar más tiempo en oración? ¿Siempre oro con palabras o medito también? Periódicamente podríamos leer la Biblia y meditar sobre ella. Podemos leer de cosas santas. Libros sobre la vida de los santos, o las escrituras de los santos, o de los papas, son muy buenos. Hay muchos recursos en el Internet, algunos son buenos, muchos son basura. Nadie puede reemplazar a los santos. Si tiene preguntas de un libro o un video, por favor pída al sacerdote su opinión.

Aquí, he puesto unos consejos para formar una rutina espiritual:

Diario:
- Pase tiempo en oración sobre los cuatro temas básicos: petición, contrición, agradecimiento, adoración. La "Liturgia de las Horas" que mencioné en una homilía reciente es una oración que sirve los cuatro temas.
- Pase tiempo en meditación. El rosario y otras coronas nos ayudan meditar sobre los misterios divinos de la fe. También, podemos leer la Biblia y meditar sobre ella.
- Podemos leer de cosas santas. Libros sobre la vida de los santos, o las escrituras de los santos, o de los papas, son muy buenos. Hay muchos recursos en el Internet, algunos son buenos, muchos son basura. Nadie puede reemplazar a los santos. Si tiene preguntas de un libro o un video, por favor pída al sacerdote su opinión.
- Un examen de conciencia y un acto de contrición. En Cristo,
  p. Jason
