Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

On Wednesday, February 12th, our parish once again celebrated the great sacrament of Confirmation. Our young brothers and sisters in the faith formation program were confirmed by Bishop Henning, completing their process of initiation into the Catholic Church. We are proud of them and give thanks to God for the awesome gift of His grace given to these, His children. In light of that, I thought it would be a good idea to review the sacrament of Confirmation with the entire parish community. In doing so, I also invite any adult parishioner who has not been confirmed to seriously consider contacting our RCIA coordinators so that you, too, can benefit from the sanctifying grace of this sacrament.

So what, exactly, happens in the sacrament of Confirmation? What we see is someone, who is already baptized and in full communion with the Catholic Church, is anointed on the forehead with sacred chrism by a bishop (and, in cases of necessity or if someone is in danger of dying, then a priest may receive permission to confirm). After laying hands on them, the bishop anoints the person, saying, "be sealed with the gift of the Holy Spirit." He then gives a sign of peace. With this short act, there is a change to the soul of that person, akin to what happened at their baptism. They are forever graced by God with the capacity to receive the full aid of the Holy Spirit in their lives. In this generous gift of God, their soul is permanently changed to be able to act upon the promptings of the Holy Spirit in a way that was impossible for them before. In theological language, we say that the sacrament imparts an "indelible character" on the soul. The sacramental grace specifically imparts the seven gifts of the Holy Spirit. These seven gifts are wisdom, understanding, counsel, fortitude, knowledge, piety, and fear of the Lord. We understand these gifts from the prophecy of Isaiah 11:1-3 and the life of Christ. These, in turn, help to produce the fruits of the Holy Spirit. While the list of the fruits of the Spirit come from Galatians 5:22-23, we should note that the Catholic tradition identifies twelve fruits (coming from the translation of that passage of scripture by St. Jerome): love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness, modesty, self-control, and chastity. See paragraphs 1831 and 1832 (and surrounding) of the Catechism of the Catholic Church for more details.

It is important to note that while these gifts and fruits use words that we may associate with certain natural virtues, they are speaking of things that we cannot accomplish except for the grace of God, and so it would be good to review the theological meaning of these words. For example, knowledge does not mean what we can learn from books or teachers, but is, rather, the ability to perceive God's creation from His perspective, seeing His handwork and intention for each thing. Remember that we wouldn't need a sacrament to obtain these if they could be received in another way. Or, put differently, the only way for us to achieve these gifts is through the Sacrament of Confirmation. Here's a distinction that, perhaps, we don't make often enough. Living a good life is not sufficient! We progress in the spiritual life, in holiness, by cooperation with God's grace, not by our own strength (cf. CCC 406). In this sense, Confirmation is necessary for anyone wishing to draw close to God and "to share in the divinity of Christ," as the priest prays at each Mass.

Finally, I would like to express publicly my gratitude to the many people who helped with the coordination of Confirmation, and the Confirmation liturgy. These words of thanks go wide: I thank the catechists of our faith formation program, as well as volunteers in the program, especially those who keep our children safe by monitoring the parking lot and the halls. I thank Cathy, Leslie, and Theresa who work in the faith formation office, and Claire who is director of the entire program. Let's appreciate how she is able to direct a program with around 1,200 kids in it! I am thankful for those who helped in liturgical ministries: sacristans, ushers, lectors, extraordinary ministers of Holy Communion, musicians, and the choir under the direction of Dr. Drohan. I am thankful for all of those who helped clean and prepare the space and materials that we used, as well as those who helped the families rehearse. I am thankful for the extraordinary work of our office and maintenance staff. Many things that we take for granted would not be accomplished without them, such as the reservation of space, arrangement of documents, coordination of funds, hospitable welcome to our families, and the preservation of a safe and clean space for our children. A big thank you to Bishop Henning for coming to celebrate the Confirmation of our children. And to any other staff member or volunteer whose hands and heart have been poured out in service towards this sacrament of Confirmation: Thank you!

Sincerely,
fr. Jason

way.

I Need God

{From A World of Stories for Preachers and Teachers by William Bausch}

In his book Life After God, Douglas Coupland writes: “Now—here is my secret: I tell it to you with an openness of heart that I doubt I shall ever achieve again, so I pray that you are in a quiet room as you read these words. My secret is that I need God—that I am sick and can no longer make it alone. I need God to help me give, because I no longer seem capable of giving; to help me be kind, as I no longer seem capable of kindness; to help me love, as I seem beyond being able to love.”

Reflections

“FIFTH FLOOR...GOING UP!!”

While technology has provided an excess of opportunities never considered when the new decade arrived, it has also debased our once patient sensibilities as we oft find ourselves fuming when something we expect to happen does not. It might be at home when we await our outdated computers to “boot up” like the new ones do or the wait, promised to be no longer than five minutes, when an Uber has been arranged or, in my latest case, simply getting on an elevator.

Though there were a total of six cars on the fifth floor where I was standing, it seemed every time the elevator stopped to proceed upward, the car was filled to capacity. Adding to the situation was the unusual number of riders on rideable scooters, in wheelchairs, or using walkers. Hoping for better luck with the next arrival, I patiently anticipated boarding when the door opened again. Same thing: no room for me at all.

Then it hit me. The surest way to find space on an elevator headed north was to board one heading south. When the next car with a downward arrow appeared, I hopped on and had all the space I needed. When it reached its final destination, it began its ascent, and when it stopped on the fifth floor, I saw some the faces of those with whom I had just been standing as the door closed...still thinking there was only one way to get to their journey’s end.

The road God has planned for us does not always work as we think it should. These are the times He gives us the Grace we need to be creative, find new ways of doing things, and get to the place He expects us to be. Knowing He is with us is all we need...even when the elevator is going in the opposite direction.
Queridos Hermanos y Hermanas en Cristo,

El miércoles, febrero 12, nuestra parroquia celebra nuevamente el sacramento de la Confirmación. Nuestros jóvenes en el programa de formación de la fe fueron confirmados por el Obispo Henning, completando su proceso de iniciación a la fe de la Iglesia Católica. Estamos orgullosos de ellos y le damos gracias a Dios por el maravilloso regalo de Su gracia que les fue dada a ellos. A la luz de esto, he creído que es una buena idea reflexionar sobre el sacramento de la Confirmación con toda la comunidad.

Asimismo, invito a todos los adultos que no han sido confirmados, a considerar seriamente contactar a nuestros coordinadores de RICA para que así, también se puedan beneficiar de la gracia santificante de este sacramento.

Entonces, ¿qué es exactamente lo que sucede en el sacramento de la Confirmación? Lo que vemos es a alguien que ya ha sido bautizado y en comunión con la Iglesia Católica, que es ungido en la frente con el crisma sagrado por el obispo (y en caso de necesidad, o si alguien está en peligro de muerte, un sacerdote puede recibir el permiso de confirmar). Después de imponer las manos en ellos, el obispo unge a la persona diciendo: “Queda sellado con el don del Espíritu Santo”. Entonces le da el signo de la cruz. Con este pequeño acto, ocurre un cambio en el alma de la persona, percibido a lo que sucedió en su bautismo. Ellos reciben para siempre la gracia de Dios, con el amor de Dios, la capacidad de recibir la ayuda total del Espíritu Santo en sus vidas. En este regalo generoso de Dios, su alma es permanentemente transformada para poder actuar bajo la guía del Espíritu Santo, de una manera que no era posible anteriormente. En lenguaje teológico, se dice que el sacramento imparte un “carácter indeleble” en el alma. La gracia sacramental imparte específicamente, los siete dones del Espíritu Santo. Estos siete dones son: sabiduría, entendimiento, consejo, fortaleza, conocimiento, piedad y temor de Dios. Conocemos de estos dones a través de la profecía de Isaías 11:1-3 y por la vida de Cristo. Estos, a su vez, nos ayudan a producir los frutos del Espíritu Santo. Aunque la lista de los frutos del Espíritu nos encontramos en Gálatas 5:22-23, debemos notar que la tradición católica identifica doce frutos (De la traducción del pasaje de las escrituras de San Jerónimo): amor, alegría, paz, paciencia, amabilidad, bondad, generosidad, fe, mansedumbre, modestia, autocontrol y castidad. Ver párrafos 1831, 1832 (y siguientes) del Catecismo de la Iglesia Católica para mas detalles.

Es importante notar que, aunque estos dones y frutos usan palabras que podemos asociar con ciertas virtudes naturales, se refieren a cosas que no podemos lograr si no es con la gracia de Dios, por lo que sería bueno revisar los significados teológicos de estas palabras. Por ejemplo: conocimiento, no significa lo que aprendemos de los libros o de los profesores, mas bien, es la habilidad de percibir la creación de Dios desde Su perspectiva, viendo Su trabajo e intención en cada cosa. Recordemos que no necesitábamos un sacramento para obtener estos, si pudieran ser recibidos de otra manera. O dicho de otra manera, la única manera para recibir estos dones es a través del sacramento de la Confirmación. Aquí hay una distinción, que quizá no hacemos con la frecuencia necesaria: ¡Vivir una buena vida no es suficiente! Progresamos en nuestra vida espiritual y en santidad con la cooperación de la gracia de Dios, no por nuestras fuerzas (Cf. CCC 406). En este sentido, la Confirmación es necesaria para quien se quiera acercar a Dios y “compartir la divinidad de Cristo”, como ora el sacerdote en cada misa.

Finalmente, me gustaría expresar públicamente mi gratitud a todas las personas que ayudaron con la coordinación y la liturgia de la Confirmación. Este agradecimiento se extiende a los catequistas del programa de Formación de la Fe, así como a los voluntarios del programa, especialmente aquellos que mantienen a nuestros niños seguros, monitoreando el parqueo y los pasillos. Agradezco a Cathy, Leslie y Theresa que trabajan en la oficina de Formación de la Fe y a Claire que es la directora del programa. Apreciamos com...
