Weekend of March 7/8- Team A
Weekend of March 14/15- Team B
Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Recently, I came across a prayer attributed to Pope Clement XI that can be found in the back of the Roman Missal (the red prayer book that the priest uses at Mass). The prayer is called “universal” because it asks from God all different graces. Each line is so rich that a bulletin column could be written on it, and so it is a prayer best prayed slowly and frequently, so that each petition can be appreciated. I hope that within this prayer you may find some material for reflection during Lent. I know I have! I have reproduced the prayer below for your own use.

Also, I would like to extend a word of thanks for two different renovation projects. The first is to the Junior Catholic Daughters of America. Through their hard work and generosity, the family room in the back of the church has a fresh coat of paint, a new, easy to clean floor, refinished pews, and (soon) a new television, donated by Chapey’s Funeral Home. Thank you, girls, for your great work! And thank you to Chapey’s for their generous donation. The second is to a parishioner, who wishes to remain anonymous, who has arranged for repairs to the statue of our Lord that is in the garden outside of the old convent. The hands and face are in need of repairs after vandalism, and now we will be able to restore it. Thank you!

In Christ,
fr. Jason

The Universal Prayer Attributed to Pope Clement XI

I believe, O lord, but may I believe more firmly;
I hope, but may I hope more securely;
I love, but may I love more ardently;
I sorrow, but may I sorrow more deeply.

I adore you as my first beginning;
I long for you as my last end;
I praise you as my constant benefactor;
I invoke you as my gracious protector.

By your wisdom direct me,
by your righteousness restrain me,
by your indulgence console me,
by your power protect me.

I offer you, Lord, my thoughts to be directed to you,
my words, to be about you,
my deeds, to respect your will,
my trials, to be endured for you.

I will whatever you will,
I will it because you will it,
I will it in the way you will it,
I will it for as long as you will it.

Lord, enlighten my understanding, I pray:
arouse my will,
cleanse my heart,
sanctify my soul.

May I weep for past sins,
repel future temptations,
correct evil inclinations,
nurture appropriate virtues.

Give me, good God, love for you, hatred for myself, zeal for my neighbor, contempt for the world.

May I strive to obey superiors,
to help those dependent on me,
to have care for my friends,
forgiveness for my enemies.

May I conquer sensuality by austerity,
avarice by generosity,
anger by gentleness,
lukewarmness by fervor.

Render me prudent in planning,
steadfast in dangers,
patient in adversity,
humble in prosperity.

Make me, O Lord, attentive at prayer,
moderate at meals,
diligent in work,
steadfast in intent.

May I be careful to maintain interior innocence,
outward modesty,
exemplary behavior,
a regular life.

May I be always watchful in subduing nature,
in nourishing grace,
in observing your law,
in winning salvation.

May I learn from you how precarious are earthly things,
how great divine things,
how fleeting is time,
how lasting things eternal.

Grant that I may prepare for death,
fear judgment,
flee hell,
gain paradise.
Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

HAPPY LENT

While I do not often expand my musical tastes (or any tastes for that matter), I did find myself at a piano recital a few weeks ago featuring a well-accomplished arranger who played a variety of selections. During his performance he provided interesting details of each number, two of which he composed himself. It was a very entertaining afternoon.

What struck me most, however, was the revelation that he has found over 70 arrangements of “Happy Birthday”. He played but four and, though a few were musically intricate, in the end the familiar melody was recognized by all in attendance, nonetheless. As he began that phase of his program, his introduction intrigued me. “When it’s your birthday,” he gently offered, “everything is okay.”

I thought about that for a while and began to smile. Though some birthdays occurred at rather challenging moments in my life, those particular days did bring a sense of joy. Nice gifts, a tasty meal, and perhaps a surprise good wish or two all added to make those “special days” special indeed.

So, the trick is to carry that “everything is okay” feeling to all our days. On each birthday, I think I automatically review, not just the past year, but many years, especially those from long ago. In those early years, I see my parents and other members of our closely knit family being together and wishing me well. Such a gift, that of a loving family, is always with me. More importantly, however, I see the gift of the Catholic faith, given and enriched by my parents, as being the main cog, which has helped me in times of my greatest needs.

Perhaps the liturgical season of Lent is not the proper time to promote happiness; however, if we make the effort to pray, to fast, and to give alms (even if we chose only one of these), the Grace we receive for what we do will certainly make sure “everything is okay.”

Queridos Hermanos y Hermanas en Cristo,

Te amo, Señor, inflama mi amor;
Creo, Señor, fortalece mi fe;
Te invoco como defensor propicio.
Te alabo como bienhechor perpetuo,
Te deseas como fin último,
Te adoro como el primer principio,
Te ofrezco, Dios mío: mis pensamientos para pensar en ti,
y que tu poder me proteja.
Que tu sabiduría me dirija;
Te deseo como último fin,
Te ruego, Señor, que alumbres mi entendimiento,
lo quiero mientras lo quieras.
lo quiero como lo quieres,
lo quiero porque lo quieres,
Quiero lo que tú quieres,
mi voluntad y mis trabajos para padecerlos por ti.
Mis palabras para hablar de ti,
Dotado de una gran pureza,
una espada afilada con la que se mata al pecado,
un abrazo de amor que abraza el mundo.
Por Jesucristo, nuestro Señor.

Y que obtenga la gloria del paraíso.
que evite el infierno
que tema el juicio,
Concédeme que me prepare para la muerte,
cuán duradero lo eterno.

Amen.
